Dems—Full Withdrawal Within 18 Months

AVERELL HARRIMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Policy Council was summoned into session today to act on a series of broad domestic and foreign policy statements including a call for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam within 18 months.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., saying he did not want to undermine President Nixon's efforts to settle the war, suggested in advance of the meeting the 66-member council delete any specific time limit from the proposal drafted by a subcommittee headed by Averell Harriman.

Meanwhile, antiwar factions on the council were considering a bid to strengthen the Harriman statement.

The all-day council meeting came a day after congressional Democrats presented a nationally televised view of the state of the nation, an equal-time reply to Nixon's State of the Union message.

The Democratic version, focused on a troubled citizenry and the issues of this congressional election year. It consisted of interviews and discussions between congressional Democrats and citizens in Washington, Los Angeles, Houston and Detroit.

The airing of the Democratic show prompted T. Coleman Andrews Jr. of Richmond, Va., national chairman of the American party, to ask major television networks Sunday night for equal treatment for his organization of third-party groups that backed George C. Wallace's presidential campaign in 1968.

The Democratic Policy Council, headed by former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, was urged in the Harriman subcommittee proposal to reject President Nixon's policy of conditioning future U.S. troop withdrawals on the Paris peace talks, the level of violence progress in developing South Vietnamese forces.

While 102 Communist soldiers died in weekend fighting in Vietnam, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird was dispatched to that country today by President Nixon for a top-to-bottom look at how the South Vietnamese are taking over the war — and how fast the United States can continue to pull out. Story on page 22.

The proposal said: "It should depend wholly and exclusively upon the interests and policy of the United States. That interest and that policy require a firm and unequivocal commitment to the American people that all U.S. forces will be withdrawn from Vietnam. We see no reason why this withdrawal should not be completed within 18 months."

The Democratic state of the nation telecast Sunday—produced at an estimated cost of between $30,000 and $50,000, to be paid by the party's congressional campaign committees—featured incumbents whose seats are up for election this year.

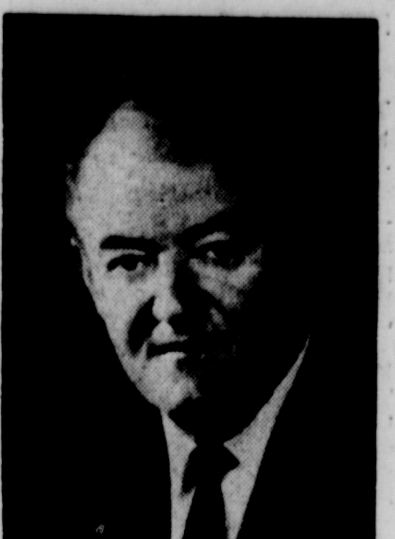

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts was a prominent Democrat who was conspicuously absent. A party official said the senator declined an invitation to participate.

Republican response included this from Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the GOP Congressional Committee.

"The Democrats pinpointed many of the problems facing the country on their TV show—residual problems left over from the years of Democratic administration. And they sounded just like a group of disgruntled heirs arguing over their meagre inheritance."

And House GOP Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan called it "a well-staged program without much substance—a lot of talk about longstanding problems that went unsolved while the Democrats controlled both the White House and Congress."

Israeli, Egyptian Jets Trade Strikes

Mideast Air War Heats Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli and Egyptian jets traded strikes across the northern Suez Canal today as the little summit meeting of Israel's chief Arab foes drew to a close in Cairo.

Israeli planes made a 75-minute raid against Egyptian military targets in the northern sector of the canal, the military command announced in Tel Aviv, and all planes returned safely.

Egyptian military spokesmen in Cairo reported that Egyptian fighter-bombers attacked "enemy bunkers and an encampment in the Deversoir area, scoring direct hits." The planes hit a group of moving Israeli vehicles, the spokesmen said, and also attacked Israeli tanks on a main road in Sinai. All planes were reported to have returned safely.

Israeli jets struck on two sides of Cairo Sunday during the second day of the Arab leaders conference called by President Gamal Nasser. The Israelis claimed they shot down two Egyptian MIG21s. Egypt claimed one Israeli Phantom, and each denied the other's claim.

The Israeli planes attacked an army camp at Inshash, 12 miles northeast of the Egyptian capital, and hit another camp near Helwan, 15 miles south of Cairo.

Just before the Sunday morning meeting of Arab leaders at Nasser's Zahraa palace in suburban Heliopolis, air raid sirens wailed, windows were rattled by an unexplained blast, and residents heard the thud of anti-aircraft guns firing at the Israeli raiders.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad said Sunday night that the leaders of Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Sudan—the nations manning the front lines against Israel—had agreed on recommendations submitted to them, their foreign and defense ministers. The leaders were to hold a final discussion today and then issue a communiqué.

Egyptian fighters engaged the Israeli planes as they attacked the two army camps. Israeli spokesmen said the two MIGs were hit by cannon fire at "medium altitude," and that one exploded in the air and the other crashed in flames. They said one of the Egyptian pilots bailed out.

Cairo spokesmen said the Israeli Phantom was one of four intercepted by Egyptian MIGs near the raided area. It was the third Phantom the Egyptians claim to have destroyed.

It was Israel's ninth reported strike over the Nile Valley since Jan. 7 and the first in 11 days. Israeli pilots reported a massive explosion at the target near Helwan. Cairo said 12 civilians were injured.

It was also the first time Egyptian fighters challenged Israeli planes deep inside Egypt.

Both sides said Egyptian jets attacked Israeli positions in the central sector of the Suez Canal.

Cairo said its fighter-bombers strafed "enemy encampments, artillery and tank positions," but Israel said the raids caused no casualties or damage.

Israeli jets later struck for 50 minutes at Egyptian targets in the southern sector of the canal, a spokesman in Tel Aviv said.

On the Israeli-Jordanian front, Arab guerrillas in Jordan raked Israeli border patrols with machine-gun fire at three points in the Beisan Valley, but there were no reports of casualties or damage. Israeli units fired back with machine guns and mortars.

Meanwhile, in Rabat, Morocco, U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers and his Moroccan hosts scheduled talks today after a Sunday of sightseeing for the American visitor. He indicated that the Arab-Israeli conflict was taboo as a topic of discussion.

Rogers was to meet first today with Prime Minister Ahmed Laraki and then lunch with King Hassan II. Saturday night, after his arrival in Africa, he talked for an hour with Foreign Minister Abdel Hafid Boutaleb.

Moroccan commitment to the Arab cause and U.S. support for Israel was considered the reason that the Moroccans gave the first American secretary of state to Africa something less than an all-out welcome.

Goodell—U.S. Unrealistic

By LYNN MULVANEY

ELLENVILLE—U.S. Sen. Charles E. Goodell urged in his talk Sunday night at the Joseph Slutsky Center in Ellenville.

The Rockefeller appointee, guest of the Men's Club of long-term grants and loans," Congregation Ezrath Israel, told the 400 persons present that "while we seek peace in the Middle East, we must maintain the balance of power in favor of Israel" although, he added, he does not want to see an unbridled arms race in the Middle East.

Goodell, Republican Jamestown lawyer and Yale graduate, who spent nine days last summer in Israel talking with Israeli and Arab leaders, said "Israel wants peace—to live with his Arab brother and sister—to make the Middle East a new garden of growth."

But, he said, the situation is impossible. Describing Middle East economic interests of Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union, Goodell said the U. S. attitude of negotiated peace is "sincere but naive...completely unrealistic."

"Nasser has decided he is going to destroy Israel while Israel indicates it wants only peace. There can be no middle ground under such circumstances," he concluded.

Goodell indicated that while the U. S. is not substantially influenced by oil interests and seeks peace by keeping lines open to both sides, "peace cannot come without direct negotiation between the parties involved."

Saying that the Arab world has legitimate claims, Goodell suggested that the claims were being exploited by irresponsible leadership.

Praising the people of Israel, Goodell described them as "surrounded, buffeted... but feeling no hate. There is some bitterness, but they are unwilling to let themselves be barbaric."

In a question and answer period that followed, Goodell was asked if the Nixon administration's policies on the Middle East differ from the Johnson administration. Goodell replied that while there is similarity between the two, Nixon has speeded up delivery of Phantom jets to Israel. He cautioned, however, against the recent emphasis on "discussion" rather than arms.

He urged those wanting to "do something," write their congressmen and hold rallies. When asked if it were possible that the U. S. was drifting toward isolationism Goodell replied while the U. S. should not get involved in civil wars it should also not go in the direction of isolationism.

Concerning the possibility of an Arab underground in Israel, the Junior senator said he could see a major escalation of internal terrorism. Of the role of the Chinese in the Middle East, he sees little involvement.

In reply to a question asking what the Soviet Union has to gain by continuing the Israeli-Arab war, Goodell advised that it "wants controlled trouble."

When asked about possible commitments of American Jews with regard to Israel, Goodell said, he "recognized the rightful commitment of American Jewry to Israel" adding he hoped it would not interfere with allegiance to the United States. "I am confident our government will continue to support Israel. I am deeply convinced you are not going to be faced with such a decision," he concluded.

Burglary Spree—Two-County Probe

By WALTER S. CLARK

POUGHKEEPSIE

Police agencies in at least four areas today continued investigation of a rash of burglaries as the result of the arrests of four Town of Lloyd youths on charges stemming from an intensive two-week investigation by local authorities.

Town police said the investigation centers in this Dutchess County section and in Ulster County.

"We are still running down clues," said Town Police Chief Charles Schade. He noted that the town authorities have accused the four youths of three break-ins at present. They are specifically charged with an entry at John's Service Station in Arlington, the chief commented.

Booked on charges of third degree burglary, a felony, were Anthony G. Cappola, 17, of Vineyard Avenue; Frank J. Mazzetti, 20, of 44 North Road, and Steven M. Schatzle, 19, of Chodikee Lake Road, all of Highland, according to police.

The fourth youth, Louis Panzera, 19, of 94 Grand Street, Highland, was charged with conspiracy third degree. He was released in custody of his father and the case was adjourned by Town Justice Lyle B. Quick until Friday, Feb. 13.

The other three accused youths were held in $2,500 bail each. Judge Quick deferred their hearings until Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Schade said that several items allegedly stolen in recent burglaries had been recovered. He said the investigation is being continued by town police and authorities in Ulster County.

Town Detective Sergeant Philip McCready, who with Chief Schade and Detective John Bodo heads the local investigation staff, said the inquiry to date indicated that most of the burglaries were "similar" in detail.

The chief roughly estimated the number of burglaries could range "between 25 and 40."

Usual General Alert Here

Meningitis Closes Middie Schools

KINGSTON

The usual general alertness is in effect in Ulster County as the result of two meningitis cases reported in Middletown, one of them fatal to a 10-year old boy, Dr. John B. Plass, acting Ulster County health commissioner said today.

There have been no cases reported in Ulster County, he said, but the department is on the alert for any incidence.

Meanwhile, in Middletown, Orange County Health Commissioner Dr. Norman Condit advised the public that it was not an epidemic situation and cautioned against overreacting to reports of the disease. As a precautionary measure classes have been suspended this week in two Middletown schools.

Timothy Misner, a student at the John W. Chorley elementary school in Middletown died Friday night. The autopsy revealed he had meningitis. The first case of the disease was reported Jan. 31 when a woman teacher at Washington Heights school was taken to Horton Hospital in critical condition, suffering from the disease.

Dr. Plass said the disease is airborne and can be spread by sneezing and coughing, thus expelling the germ into the air. He said the early symptoms are a feeling of tiredness, fever and headache.

The meningitis organism is reportedly short lived and self-destructive after 19 minutes exposure at room temperature—Dr. Plass said it is not highly resistant.

Community reaction to the disclosure of the disease in Middletown was reported by the United Press International.

Some residents of the Orange County city of 25,000 flocked to drug stores to buy sulphadiazine, which is obtainable with a doctor's prescription. Condit warned against such gatherings, saying that members of the community should avoid crowds and that the drug should not be used indiscriminately because of possible side effects.

While Condit said use of the drug should be limited to immediate families and those who may have come into contact with the victims, he revealed to the Middletown Times

Herald-Record that members of the Misner family were apparently not taking medication. The newspaper said Condit stated that the family does not believe in medicine because of religious beliefs, but cooperated with authorities by observing a quarantine.

Condit said the Misners assured him that younger members of the family have had very little contact with other people in the community.

Schools closed were Washington Heights and Chorley.

Health officials set up a clinic staffed by eight doctors from Horton Memorial, at Middletown High School to advise parents on precautions to be taken. Free prescriptions for sulphadiazine were offered to those persons who may have come in contact with the reported victims and throat cultures were taken to detect possible carriers.

Charles Andolina, chief pharmacist at Bay Drugs, one of the larger pharmacies in the city, said he filled 500 prescriptions for sulphadiazine in one day.

The Lederle Laboratories in Pearl River opened Sunday to supply the city with 10,000 additional pills of the drug, while 400 pills were flown in from Lilly Lab in Indianapolis.

A Sense of Urgency

Egyptian President Gamal Nasser (L) confers with his defense minister, Gen. Mohamed Fawzi in Cairo shortly before meeting with four other Arab nations in a "confrontation summit" aimed at improving their performance against Israel. The Israelis brought a sense of urgency to the meetings by staging air raids on the outskirts of Cairo that rattled windows at the Arab leaders' conference site. No major policy proclamations were expected in the final communiqué late today, only explanation of the determination of the Arab nations to band together more closely in coordinating the military effort against Israel. Basement Realty to Give Plans

The Common Council will hold a public hearing tonight at 7:30 in City Hall on a request by Basement Realty Inc. to redevelop the Goodyear property on North Front Street.

Basement Realty is a Main Street real estate firm that has requested permission from the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency to build a new Good-year service center on the site of the present Goodyear service center on North Front Street.

The firm has already been approved as an "eligible and qualified developer" by state, federal and local urban renewal officials and by the Kingston Common Council.

Basement will present its plans for the redevelopment of the parcel tonight.

According to Charles Roach, president of Basement Realty, plans call for a 7,500 square foot service center to be built at a cost of approximately $135,000.

Basement has offered the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency $24,000 for the land to build the new service center.

It is expected that most of the members of the Common Council will be in attendance. Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo will preside over tonight's meeting. Representatives of Basement Realty, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, urban renewal officials and representatives of the Uptown Businessmen's Association are also expected to be in attendance.

Representatives of Basement Realty will answer questions about their plans for what will be, if approved, the first redevelopment in the Uptown Urban Renewal Project.

Po'Keepsie Teachers Picket

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. UPI — Teachers picketed the city's seven public schools today to protest a lack of agreement with school officials on two undisclosed demands.

The teachers, members of the Poughkeepsie Public School Teachers Association, extended their picketing to the city's five elementary schools and urged parents to keep youngsters home from class.

The school board said that all schools would be kept open. The board urged parents to send children to class and said substitute teachers would man the classrooms.

There was no estimate of attendance figures.

The dispute erupted last week when 122 high school teachers threatened to walk out to protest the reinstatement of four pupils who had been suspended following a disturbance.

The teachers presented a list of 25 demands. Mrs. Rupert Tarver, president of the school board, announced Sunday night that agreement had been reached on 23 of the 25 demands.

She termed the teachers' demand on the remaining issues "intolerable." Neither side would comment publicly on the issues still in dispute.

City Officials Called In UR Property Hearing

A number of city officials have been subpoenaed for a hearing in connection with the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency's attempts to acquire the property of Vincent Carpio of 61 Murphy Street in the uptown project.

The hearing was set for 1 p.m. today in the County Court House before Referee Joseph F. Saccoman. Saccoman was appointed by County Judge Raymond A. Mino to hear testimony in the case.

Joseph D. Hill, attorney for Carpio, said that his client is resisting attempts by the urban renewal agency to bring about immediate possession (by the agency) of the Carpio home situated on three acres of land adjacent to the Kingston Plaza.

Hill has subpoenaed James G. Connors, executive director of the Kingston Urban Renewal

Ulster Heights Fire Destroys Frame House

ELLENVILLE protect other houses in the immediate area. Madden said on King's Chapel Road at Ulster Heights was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin late Sunday night.

Fire Chief Robert Madden reported all local fire units responded to an alarm at 11:30 p.m. and on arrival firemen saw the structure completely involved in flames. "The house was pretty well gone when we got there," the chief said.

Firemen stood by prepared to service at 1:05 a. m.

Wawarsing Discusses Library

ELLENVILLE

Financial assistance for a bookmobile service which goes into a neighboring township was a major topic of last week's Wawarsing Town Board meeting.

The Town Board said it is considering ending bookmobile service unless the Town of Rochester, directly to the north of Wawarsing, contributes to the $2,750 annual cost.

Board clerk Kenneth Mitchell said bookmobile service to the community of Kerhonkson, on the town line between the two townships, is being paid for by Wawarsing, while appeals to Rochester to contribute to the service cost "have gone almost totally ignored."

Said the clerk, "the board is quite seriously thinking of ending the service."

The threat of law suit was brought before the board by a Cragmoor resident who charged his automobile tire was "damaged" by road conditions. The resident, Robert Wright, told the board that unless they pay for the tire, he would bring the township to court for damages to his tire as well as other damages that he said were incurred last summer.

Cragmoor also was brought up by Councilman Frank Sahler who asked that two additional voting places be installed in the town, one in that community and the other in the hamlet of Wawarsing. Supervisor Frank Harkin said he and Sahler would study the need for the voting booths before making a decision.

A public hearing on a new ordinance regulating the operation of the Kerhonkson Water District will be held by the Town Board Wednesday in Kerhonkson. The session is slated to begin at 8 p.m. at Kerhonkson Fire Hall.

Copies of the proposed regulation are available at the hearing.

While Supervisor Harkin is attending the annual meeting of the State association of towns from Monday through Wednesday, Town Councilman Jerome Z. Elkin will take up the duties of supervisor, said Harkin.

Smith Seeks Opinions on Rt. 209 Plans

MARBLETOWN

Town Supervisor Kenneth Smith is looking for public opinions by Marletown residents on their preference among three alternate Route 209 routes proposed by the state Transportation Department.

Smith told the Freeman that he had posted a map at the town hall, and had received many comments on it. He is being asked by the Transportation Department for his opinion on the best route from Hurley to Wurtsboro, through Marletown.

"I favor the route which follows the old railroad track bed," he stated, "because it would disturb the least people."

The road is to be a limited access thoroughfare, four lanes, and will probably have to bypass Stone Ridge's Main Street.

A public hearing within the next month will be held, according to Smith, and he would like residents to give their opinions on the matter. The Town Hall is open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily for reference to the map. Smith thinks the hearing by the Transportation Department will "probably be in Poughkeepsie."

Women Voters League to Meet Tuesday Noon

WOODSTOCK The general membership meeting of the League of Women Voters of Woodstock will be held Tuesday at 12 noon at the Holiday Inn, Kingston. Guest speaker at the buffet luncheon will be Dr. Jack L. Roosa, district superintendent of the Board of Cooperative Educational Services, who will speak on "The BOCES Story."

The League will also have a discussion of local program making 1970-1971.

The League of Women Voters is open to all women citizens of voting age. It is a nonpartisan organization whose purpose is to encourage the informed and active participation of all citizens in government and politics.

Weekend Accidents in Area... Three Killed

By WALTER S. CLARK

LAKE KATRINE

Three persons lost their lives in area accidents including a man who was fatally wounded when the shotgun of a friend discharged at a local residence, and a Dutchess county youth who was killed in a weekend traffic accident.

The third victim was a 20-year-old Columbia County youth who was fatally injured when the car in which he was riding hit a snowbank on a Kinderhook highway. Three other persons were injured in that mishap.

Kingston State Police reported that Merle Unthank, 39, of Lake Katrine, died Saturday morning of gunshot wounds of the right side in an accidental shooting at a friend's home.

Ulster County Corner Henry S. Harley of Saugerties said Unthank died of internal hemorrhaging. The death was ruled accidental.

An investigation by BCI Investigator John Salters and Troopers Robert Mackey and R. M. Houst of the Kingston State Police, noted that Unthank went to the home of James Riddick in this hamlet Saturday morning. Riddick was going to drive his friend to a bus terminal, and then go hunting.

As Riddick walked from the door of his residence and stepped off the stoop a 12-gauge double-barrel shotgun he was cradling under his arm dropped to the ground as the man slipped on ice. The shotgun went off and Unthank was felled with wounds of the side.

The Dutchess county sheriff's office identified the victim of the traffic accident as 18-year-old Kevin Smith, a native of Rhinebeck and a senior at Arlington High School where he was a member of the track team and captain of the baseball team.

Police said that Todd Orton, 17, of 3 Lauer Road and Vin-cense Recine, 27, of Sky Top Gardens, both of the Town of Poughkeepsie, were westbound on Route 55 near the Manchester Bridge, when Smith reportedly pulled out of Overlook Road onto the main highway.

Smith's car was first in collision with Orton's vehicle and then with the one driven by Recine, who was driving in the passing lane, authorities said.

The victim of the fatal crash was pinned under Recine's automobile when he was ejected from his car. Smith was pronounced dead at the scene. Orton suffered shock and was taken to Vassar Hospital for treatment. He was later released. Investigators from the Claverack State Police identified the victim of the Kinderhook fatality as 20-year-old Edward B. Dymond of Chatham. Dymond was dead on arrival at the Columbia County

Memorial Hospital in Hudson, Town of Kinderhook. The car then spun around. Troopers reported that Dymond was a passenger in a car driven by John P. Gaylord, 17, of Hanley, when the vehicle went out of control late Saturday and slammed into a snowbank off Route 9 in the

Roosevelt (Jr.) Throws Hat Into State Democratic Ring

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. is getting to be the Harold Stassen of New York politics.

Following the script of 1954 and 1966, the son of the late President revealed Sunday that he has launched a statewide poll of "influential Democrats" to see if he has enough support to enter the already crowded race for the gubernatorial nomination.

"If the poll continues to show," Roosevelt said, "that I am a very strong candidate and that I would have a better chance of beating (Governor) Rockefeller than the other available Democrats, then I would become a candidate."

In his last opportunity to beat Rockefeller four years ago, Roosevelt, 55, ran as the Liberal party candidate and finished last in a four-way race. His showing knocked the Liberals from third place to fourth on the state ballot.

In 1954, Roosevelt lost a bid for the Democratic nomination when W. Averell Harriman was chosen to run against Irving Ives.

A Roosevelt entry into the race would make it almost a carbon copy of the 1966 Democratic intramural squabbles. Roosevelt, Howard J. Samuels of Canandaigua and Nassau County Executive Eugene Nickerson, who is expected to announce momentarily, all tried to get the nomination four years ago but lost out to Frank D. O'Connor.

UCCC Slates 5 Courses, Consumer Credit Program

STONE RIDGE Five non-credit courses scheduled at Ulster County Community College and a program on consumer frauds will be presented during the month, it was announced by Ronald A. Koster, director of continuing education.

A course on wills and estates will be held on three succeeding Thursdays from 7 to 9 p.m. at the college starting Feb. 19.

A course on yoga will be held on Monday evenings starting Feb. 23.

Parliamentary procedure will be offered on four Monday evenings starting Feb. 23, and classes on effective listening is scheduled on three Monday nights from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. starting Feb. 23.

Stephen Larsen, an instructor of psychology at UCCC will instruct the yoga classes. Donald C. Kait, director of student activities will offer the classes on parliamentary procedure and James Orser, a leader in the field and teacher, philosopher and businessman will instruct the effective listening classes.

Attorney William D. Brinnier will teach the classes on Wills and Estates. Effective reading for business and pleasure will be offered on 10 Tuesday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. with Edward Poenicke, a reading specialist and part-time instructor teaching the class.

The program on consumer frauds will be presented Tuesday 1:40 p.m. at the college with Glenn N. Armitage, an assistant attorney general as guest speaker. This program is open to the public without fee and is sponsored by the Social Science Club at the college.

Further information about the non-credit courses and fees may be had by calling Koster at the college.

Cane Attends State Meeting

KINGSTON Len Cane, executive vice president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, is currently attending the mid-winter conference of the New York State Chamber of Commerce Executives Association.

Conducted in Albany, the conference will address itself to such topics as The Chamber and the Consumer, Welfare, The Pollution Problem, Today's Housing, Education and Manpower for Tomorrow. Panel discussions will be led by recognized experts in these fields. Law enforcement representatives will offer their views on organized crime and what is being done to combat it.

The conference concludes with the annual legislative dinner of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce. Cane, and a large representation of Kingstonians, will be in attendance to hear from Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened higher today in moderate turnover.

Hopes for a rollback in record high interest rates helped the market to its first weekly advance of the year last week. But analysts noted that it will take more than hope if stocks are to score any appreciable gains. The general consensus was the list would trade narrowly until definite signs of easier credit appeared.

Shortly after the opening, U.P.I. marketwide indicator showed a gain of 0.48 per cent on 413 issues crossing the tape. Of these, 235 gained and 87 declined.

University Computing rose 1/4 to 6 1/4, while Litton picked up 1/4 to 27, and Motorola 1/4 to 130 1/4. Texas Instruments added 1/4 to 125 1/4, and Westinghouse 1/4 to 56 1/4.

In the oil group, Cities Service climbed 1/4 to 35, Standard of California 1/4 to 25 1/4, and Atlantic Richfield 1/4 to 68 1/4. Jersey Standard was unchanged at 55 1/4, with Occidental also unchanged at 21.

Standard of Indiana rose 1/4 to 39, but Shell lost 1/4 to 37. Among the motors, Chrysler tacked on 1/4 to 27, and Ford 1/4 to 38 1/4. American Motors gained 1/4 to 8 1/4. General Motors was unchanged at 65 1/4.

All Concerned Quiet On the Spy Charges

SEATTLE Wash. (AP)—A who had clearance for access to secret material, met Tikhomirov Dec. 6 in Seattle and was asked to obtain secret information, particularly "concerning the national defense of the Northwest United States, such as anti-aircraft, missiles, etc."

Aleksandr Vassilevich Tikhomirov, 37, remained in city jail on an FBI complaint which said he had conspired with Russian agents and "other persons unknown" since Jan. 4, 1969, to obtain information about U.S. defenses.

An unidentified official of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., visited Tikhomirov in his cell for about 30 minutes Sunday, but made no attempt to post bail.

Bail of $100,000 was set Saturday by U.S. Commissioner Walter J. Reeseburg Jr., who scheduled a hearing Wednesday.

As an employee of the U.N. Secretariat, Tikhomirov had unlimited freedom to travel in the United States.

An agreement between the United States and the United Nations gives Secretariat employees immunity from prosecution only for actions connected with U.N. duties.

The FBI said Tikhomirov was arrested Saturday on a downtown Seattle street about one hour after a scheduled meeting with an unidentified technical sergeant in the U.S. Air Force. The agency said the sergeant,

Cattle With Cancerous Portions Removed Were Consumed by Public

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans during the last fiscal year ate millions of pounds of beef from cattle that had "cancer eye" or similar tumorous disorders, Agriculture Department records show.

Nearly 103,000 cattle carcasses checked by federal inspectors were held in meat plants until tumorous parts were whittled out. The remainder of the meat was put on the market, according to the statistics.

But the department says the cattle situation differs from chicken processing in which the government requires any bird with a tumorous part be entirely destroyed and not passed on to the consumer.

One distinction, say federal authorities, is that leukosis or chicken cancer virus may be spread throughout the bird while a localized tumor on a cow's head has no relation with the roast on her hump.

Red meat animals such as cattle, hogs and sheep are so anatomically different, say Agriculture Department experts, that comparisons with poultry are limited except on aesthetic grounds.

But last week Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld, U.S. surgeon general, told the Agriculture Department, a ban on diseased poultry should continue "predominantly on aesthetic" grounds and be cause scientists do not have all the answers.

Of the 103,000 cows temporarily held back in fiscal 1969, 168 carcasses had carcinoma-involving tumors which may appear anywhere in the body—and 102,669 having epithelioma, a tumorous condition of the eye.

The total represented a fraction of more than 3.3 million cattle carcasses detained briefly in meat plants while parts were cut out because of other diseases and injuries ranging from adhesions to tuberculosis.

In all, the 1968-69 report shows, more than 10 per cent of the 30.1 million cattle carcasses approved by federal inspectors underwent some postmortem whittling for removal of offending parts.

Dr. Joseph S. Stein, head of slaughter inspection for the department, said cutting away an infected part from a red meat animal is no worse than a housewife removing a spot from an apple and using the rest of it for a pie.

The surgeon general said lesions and tumors associated with leukosis viruses in chickens "are in fact indicators of widespread systemic disease" in the rest of the bird.

Therein lies another significant difference between poultry and red meat animals, Stein told a reporter.

With one possible exception, "there is no tumorous disease of cattle which is known to be even of the game with a virus" affecting humans, Stein said.

The only possibility, he said, is malignant lymphoma, which in cattle may be "somewhat similar" to human leukemia and the leukosis in chickens.

But when this disease is detected, Stein said, the entire carcass is condemned as human food. There were 4,831 such rejections last year.

Moreover, he said, if cancer eye is found to have spread to the animal's lymph system—sort of a filter apparatus—the entire carcass also is condemned.

Stein said 60 years of experience has shown these methods to be a satisfactory, safe and acceptable procedure and that new federal meat regulations expected to be adopted soon will continue the practice.

Dem Plan on Drug Education— A Start in the First Grade

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The legislature's Democratic leaders were prepared to unveil today an anti-narcotics program that would begin the drug education of New York school children in the first grade.

Their youth-oriented program, scheduled for presentation at a late-morning news conference, also prescribes harsher penalties for persons who sell marijuana and drugs near schools. Additionally they proposed a $3-million statewide network of special centers to treat drug addicts between the ages of 8 and 18.

In a joint statement prepared for the news conference, Senate Minority Leader Joseph Zaretzki and Assembly Minority Leader Stanley Steingut denounced drug addiction as "the 1970 bubonic plague."

Reporting that 224 teen-agers and 676 young adults had died from heroin overdoses last year, they declared, "We must prevent our younger children from becoming new victims of this drug cult."

One of the bills in their program would authorize the state education commissioner to devise courses to teach the dangers of drug abuse to children in the first grade. Such instruction would be optional at that level.

At present drug-education courses are required at the eighth-grade level. The Zaretzki-Steingut program would lower this mandate to the fourth grade—or possibly the second grade, depending on a final decision that was to be announced at the news conference.

The Democrats moved in the Senate and Assembly ended a weekend recess and returned to working sessions this afternoon.

The major action this week is to be a vote on legislation seeking repeal of the State Constitution's 76-year-old Blaine Amendment ban on financial aid to church-operated schools.

The measure's sponsor, Senate Majority Leader Earl W. Brydges, asserted Sunday that the vote definitely would be taken this week—first in the Senate and, if successful, then the Assembly.

"I'm inclined to go with it in the Senate on Tuesday," Brydges said.

Speaker Perry B. Duryea Jr. said that, if the Assembly still were in session when the Senate acted, then his house would take up the matter immediately. Otherwise the Assembly would act Wednesday.

Repeal of the Blaine barrier is sought to clear the way for programs of financial aid to the state's hard-pressed parochial school systems. Protestant church leaders strongly oppose such programs on the ground they would violate the principle of church-state separation.

The Steingut-Zaretzki move came after Gov. Rockefeller followed through on his State of the State message call for a thorough study of drug traffic and use in this state.

Over the weekend he sent the lawmakers a special message asking for creation of a 15-member commission to examine the problem.

The Democrats also called for a study commission and, as Rockefeller had done previously, prescribed greater use of methadone—the drug substitute given to heroin addicts to control their craving.

Much of the emphasis of their program, however, was placed on efforts to curb the spread of drug use among the young, beginning with education in the schools.

They sought to crack down on those who sell drugs to children by inserting a special provision in the law to punish peddlers caught operating within 1,500 feet of any school property. Under those circumstances, possession of more than 25 marijuana cigarettes or one eighth ounce of heroin would be punishable by a prison sentence of up to 25 years. The maximum now is seven years.

Noting that there were no state facilities now for treating drug addicts under age 18, they proposed to authorize creation of non-profit Narcotic Rehabilitation Center Companies that would operate centers across the state to treat young addicts. Their bill would appropriate $3 million for state aid to the centers.

In another development over the weekend, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee's ranking Democrat, Alexander Chananau of the Bronx, introduced bills that would end the practice of paying commissions to businessmen who collect the state's taxes on cigarettes and motor fuel.

He estimated these commissions would total $5.4 million this year and contended "there is no justification for continuing this tax give-away." Chananau noted that no such commissions are paid for collecting income, sales and other taxes.

Two Upstate Locals Turn Down GE

Striking machinists' lodges at two upstate New York General Electric plants voted Sunday to turn down the strike-settling GE contract. One lodge accepted the contract and another was set to vote today.

The workers, members of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, are not bound by ratification of the contract, agreed upon in New York Jan. 29, between GE and striking electrical workers.

At Utica, Lodge 1669 rejected the pact 688 to 250 while Lodge 784 accepted 122 to 13.

Utica Lodge 588 was scheduled to vote at 2 p.m. today.

William McCadden, president of the Auburn unit, said the reason for rejection of the contract was because it lacked a clause guaranteeing workers would be called back to their jobs immediately. Under the contract, callbacks are at the company's discretion.

McCadden said IAM workers would be back on the picket lines.

Joseph LaRocca, president of Utica's Lodge 1669, said "the machinists have spoken." He gave no reason for the rejection.

William Miller, business agent for Lodge 784, would not comment when asked if his group would honor the picket lines of the dissenting lodges at the Utica plant. Miller's lodge represents about 150 draftsmen, laboratory technicians and engineering helpers.

He said, however, that he believed GE would resume negotiations today with Lodge 1669.

There are about 3,500 employees at the Utica plants. Officials have estimated that up to half of them have been working during the strike.

Sees Easing of Tight Monetary Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul W. McCracken, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, says the administration probably will act to ease the tight monetary policies established to cool down the economy.

"Clearly, a continuation through 1970 of the rather restrictive policies that we had in 1969 would not be consistent with the outlook that we indicated in the President's economic report," McCracken said Sunday.

McCracken joined other government economists over the weekend in declaring the administration has succeeded in slowing down the inflation spiral and, with the proper safeguards, without serious threat of a recession.

Treasury Secretary David M.

Kennedy, along with Mc-

Cracken and Budget Director

Robert P. Mayo and Federal

Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns, indicated the economy will continue to coast down for the next few months.

"Then," Kennedy said, "we will level out sometime this year to a more sustainable rate and then there will be an increase in activity on a more sustainable basis."

Kennedy, McCracken and

Mayo appeared on NBC's Sunday interview program "Meet the Press."

McCracken didn't say it, but to carry out monetary policy changes will require the cooperation of the independent Federal Reserve Board and Burns.

The Fed, as the board is called, operates on its own to control credit in the nation and therefore the flow of money in the economy, affected only by the President through suggestions and public appeals.

Burns, who served as a top

Nixon adviser before being appointed as Fed chairman, indicated to Congress Saturday he may not agree entirely with

McCracken's assessment of the need for less restrictive monetary controls.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 9, 1970

Pointed Joking-in-Earnest

Before all other considerations, inflation is first on President Nixon's mind. It is his most pressing concern, as he showed in his recent press conference. He said he hoped that Dr. Arthur F. Burns, his nominee as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, would be convinced by his tight 1971 budget, and by the serious effort by Congress and the administration to stem inflation, that the Federal Reserve Board can loosen monetary restraints.

The next day, when Burns was sworn in as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board in the White House, the President added more pointed joking-in-earnest about ending credit restrictions and lowering interest rates. At the same time, Mr. Nixon showed the frustration of a President who appoints his chief counselor to a post in the government in which he is on his own, beyond the President's orders.

"I respect Dr. Burns' independence," said the President. "However, I hope that independently he will conclude that my views are the ones that should be followed." And when Dr. Burns received a standing ovation upon taking the oath of office, the President added, "You see, Dr. Burns, that is a standing vote of appreciation in advance for lower interest rates and more money."

If the President meant to produce a public commitment from his newly appointed monetary chief of his view, he failed. Dr. Burns only affirmed that his aim will be "To do what I can to help protect the integrity of the dollar and to help foster a stable prosperity for our nation."

Having just counseled a federal budget that keeps spending down, Burns knew intimately the struggle the President had made to keep spending down. What he does not know is how far the Congress will go to keep spending down. If Congress holds the line, the Reserve's action will be clear. It is up to Congress now if we are to have lower interest and more money for all.

Evenly Rated Parties

A Gallup poll finds 70 per cent of people interviewed list four problems as those which most concern Americans today—the Vietnam war, still by far the big leader; the high cost of living or inflation, race relations and crime.

Then it comes to the question, "Which party can best handle these problems?" The parties named are almost evenly divided—the Republicans leading by 27 per cent with 25 per cent for the Democrats. The big surprise is the larger 39 per cent who believe it makes no difference which party is in control, for they indicate there are a lot of Americans with open minds who can be swung either way in the election in November.

This question, Gallup says, has proved a reliable indicator of political trends in the past. If so, the answers cast doubt on the Republican claims of victories that will give them control of Congress this fall. They should also give heart to Democrats who have been fearful that President Nixon's political astuteness has boxed them in a corner.

If this poll is accurate, it means the congressional elections are still wide open. The election is still to be won. Congress will strain at the leash to get the business of legislating early this year—by July 31, if possible, when the session should end by law.

For unless something decisive happens in the next six months, the Congressmen whose seats are at stake are going to be away on the hustings and it may be difficult, and even impossible, to find a quorum even on the House side. They will all tend to be out making hay with their constituents.

Henry J. Taylor Says Javits, Goodell Opportunists

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, forced to defend the way maverick Republican Sen. Charles E. Goodell so persistently votes with the Democrats, stated: "We don't want a monolithic party. We want different points of view." Mr. Rockefeller was begging the question.

What Mr. Rockefeller really was saying is that there is an antiparty mood in the country, and Senator Goodell — like so-called Republican Jacob Javits and such others in the Senate and House — is cashing in on this.

A recent nationwide Gallup Poll among university students asked how they rated nine American institutions. The undergraduates gave our universities the highest (68 per cent) favorable rating — a surprise in the face of the publicized campus revolts. The American family came next with a 58 per cent favorable score, Congress 56 per cent, the courts 46 per cent. Among the entire nine institutions, political parties were solidly down at the absolute bottom: 18 per cent.

The parties themselves, including shattering spectacles like the Democrats' Chicago convention, are largely to blame for such disfavor, which is certainly not limited to our youth. But what would happen if the rival party system, and the party responsibility that men like Goodell and Javits ignore to their self-profit, were liquidated? Is it not obvious, too, that our government's over-all improvement absolutely depends on the willingness of the greatest possible majority of the American citizenry to take membership in and strengthen both parties?

Government without party responsibility leads toward governmental liquidation. It is an unconscionable forfeit.

There must always be in our country at least two great political parties, both vigorous and strong. Their opposition should be honest and clear and acknowledged and on a plane and of a character that needs no apology.

Each should hammer out ideas on the anvil of debate. Each should attempt to outdo the other in supplying good government. Each should have the widest possible membership. These are the essential missions and values in our two-party system, which is fundamental in the government of the United States.

Nothing needs competition so much as government bodies, and the primary function of the American people to direct the course of our national government rests in the Republican and Democratic parties.

The people's full use of these power tools, or their neglect of them, represents the difference between representative government and a government pretending to be representative government.

What starts out as politics in the national conventions and elsewhere ends up as government. These parties choose the candidates elected to the powers of the President and Congress. Then they employ their incredibly costly promotions, which often depend on the sheer weight of personalities. The key to this is now TV—the one-eyed peddler of political pan. Under its impact the living room is now a voting booth.

What the image makers are trying to do is to bypass the rational side of men and women and appeal directly to the deep forces below the surface. In a way they are making nonsense of democratic procedure, which is based on conscious choice on rational grounds.

Oh, yes, party responsibility, along with government as a whole, is terribly abused. Both parties sorely need mending and will always need mending. But if all citizens remained "independent," or officials elected by their party voted persistently with the rival party as Senator Goodell and Javits do, our type of government simply could not function.

Thinking people never entirely agree in every detail with either party's political philosophy or legislative program. There should be plenty of room within both parties for honest difference of opinion. But the overwhelming fact is that the so-called independent should join the party wherein he or she finds the lesser difference of opinion from his own and vote in the primaries as well as in the elections.

That we Americans have been spared the curse and tyranny of one-party rule, on one hand, or the chaos and ineffectiveness of numerous splinter parties is frankly not due to citizens who refrain from joining either of our two great political parties or by the opportunistic behavior of the likes of Senators Goodell and Javits.

Party difference is good democracy. It's party indifference that represents our dangers.

The Utterly Odious Among High School, College Students

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In a midwestern city, a high school teenager was hospitalized to be treated for an addictive drug (not heroin). Evidently cured, back in school, he was given a sports new car for his birthday by his happy parents.

Not too long afterward, school officials called the boy's mother to ask why he had not been to school for several days. The mother, no harsh disciplinarian but a quiet-spoken, gentle-spirited woman, went in search of her son. She found him in the school area, back on drugs, driving idly around.

When she remonstrated with him and threatened to take away his car, the boy knocked his mother down in the street and drove off, leaving her there. She had to be hospitalized briefly.

Today the boy is out of school, minus car, living away from home. He needs psychiatric care, but doctors tell his mother the city's psychiatric wards are so filled that the corridors are being used for bed space. His case is not considered serious enough to compel admittance. Let's go now to a city farther west. An admirable young boy, a high achiever in many fields, well-adjusted and good-humored, recently was arguing with his mother over the gradual lengthening of his hair.

"You just don't understand," he said as she fled the room.

To another listener, he explained what his mother did not get.

"Everybody at school (a private academy) wears his hair this way, so I do, too. I feel I have to, because I don't do any of the other things most of the rest of them do."

Does that include using drugs?

The boy's answer was "yes." He said he had been approached several times, had always rebuffed the youthful pushers, and was now left alone.

In a large eastern city high school, a teenage student twice in recent weeks has been a witness to little enactments on the "drug scene," incontrovertible evidence that drugs (possibly heroin in one instance) were being used.

Before deciding whether or not to report these incidents, the student had to weigh the question of possible bodily harm if vengeful drug users "is covered" who reported them. Nice age isn't it? Back to the Midwest to a fair-sized university. A lovely young girl, not a top-rank student but plainly capable of being captivated by imaginative teaching, tossed in the towel early in her second year. She eloped with an earnest young man in a modest-sized town who had to skip college because he is his mother's sole support.

Did the college's "brutal impersonality" turn this young girl off? Not at all. What turned her off, and her whole life had been proof of a deep liking for people, was the crude behavior of her male and female college associates.

Her experience, as told to me, was that a disconcertingly large proportion of her female college mates were, at worst, petty thieves — and at best grossly and continuously inconsiderate in their day-to-day personal dealing with her and others.

Hardly a week passed when she did not lose some article of clothing or other personal possession to the girl thieves in her dormitory. Many times she found the incontestable proof later in other girls' rooms.

As for the male students, this attractive, sensitive young girl summed them up as being, almost without exception, arrogant young sexual vultures, to whom the girls were simply targets without feelings.

I have just heard comparable testimony from another young girl who attended a larger midwestern university. Theft was common.

Now I have no way of knowing how general such conduct is in the high schools and colleges of this country, since statistical measurements are inadequate. Girls who steal other girls' blouses in dormitories seldom make the police blotter.

Anyone who has some notion that this kind of conduct is not widely prevalent in this country is not in touch with the real world of today. Drugs and thievery are easy to deplore. The flood of human inconsiderateness is the more puzzling thing to face.

Jack Anderson Says Burns Must Persuade Reserve Board to Ease Tight Money

WASHINGTON — President Nixon is determined to relieve the economic pressure upon the average American who is caught in a squeeze between soaring interest rates and skyrocketing prices.

It is now evident that the Federal Reserve Board's tight-money measures have enriched the bankers without halting inflation. Dr. Arthur Burns, the new chairman, is quietly committed to relaxing the restrictions.

Meanwhile, the dwindling money supply and tightening credit have left many corporations short of operating capital. The clamor for credit is approaching panic proportions.

Other corporations are already deeply in hock to the banks. This is particularly true of investment houses, whose financial stability would have an immediate effect upon the stock market.

The bankers, greedy for every penny of interest they can squeeze out of their borrowers, have started to demand payment on old loans so they can offer new credit at higher rates. This could cause a crisis on Wall Street.

The high cost of credit has cut into the profits of most companies. The management often reacts by cutting back production and laying off workers.

People out of work, of course, reduce their own spending. This means fewer automobiles, TV sets, refrigerators and other goods are sold. The sag in sales, in turn, extends the economic chain reaction.

This column reported last October that President Nixon was carefully manipulating the economic controls and that he planned tentatively to shift gears this spring. He never intended to let the country go into an economic tailspin, recalling that the 1959 recession contributed to his defeat for President in 1960.

The President spelled out his plans to party leaders behind closed White House doors last October 14. The confidential minutes, obtained by this column, quoted the President's prognosis.

Nixon's Plan
"There will come a downturn in economic level," he predicted. "We want to control inflation without a downturn in unemployment."

"We will continue tight policies through this month and next month," he confided to party leaders last October. "In the spring, we may well want to be moving in the other direction. We have some things in mind which will please you."

What he had in mind, we can now report, was a balanced budget. His plan was to submit a budget so lean that the Federal Reserve Board would ease its tight-money controls.

The President, of course, doesn't run the Fed. His appointee, Dr. Burns, must persuade six other members to join him in reversing the Fed's monetary policy.

Dr. Burns advised the President it would take a tough, tight budget to impress the Fed's members that the Nixon administration intends to control inflation by holding down government spending.

Accordingly, the Budget Bureau slashed and trimmed until it got the budget down to $205 billion. But Dr. Burns warned the cuts would have to go deeper before he could persuade his fellow Fed members to loosen the economic reins.

With meat ax and with scalpel, the budget boys whacked and whittled the budget down below $201 billion. Now it's up to Dr. Burns to sell the Fed on relaxing controls. The bankers, who never had it so good, are opposed.

Headlines and Footnotes
Soviet Attack? — Secret U.S. aerial photos show that Soviet forces are poised for an attack upon Red China. It is clear from the missile deployment that the Russians have the option of using nuclear weapons if they choose. On the Chinese side, the secret photos show short-range missiles, which could be a threat to Soviet cities in Siberia. The Chinese have also constructed several beehive-shaped mounds, which have our intelligence experts puzzled. The best guess is that they are fortified bunkers.

Chappaquiddick Incident — Jack Olsen's book, "Bridge on Chappaquiddick," offers a more thorough account of the celebrated tragedy than will be found in some 800 pages of testimony taken at the inquest of Mary Jo Kopechne's drowning. Olsen concluded that Senator Ted Kennedy, nervous over being hailed by a part-time policeman, ducked out of the car and that Mary Jo drove the car over the bridge by herself. District Attorney Edmund Dinis has suggested that the braking was too heavy for a girl. Olsen points out, however, that the death car had power brakes.

Vietnam Withdrawal — President Nixon has notified the U.S. command that he wants to reduce the American involvement in Vietnam to a support force of less than 100,000 men. The withdrawal rate, of course, will depend upon how quickly the South Vietnamese can take over the defense of their country.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Everybody called him Flatwheel. His real name is unimportant; I forgot it long ago. He grew up on lower Grand Street, near the sugar factory and Colgate. He slept in a dismal flat with his parents, and the sounds of the night were Pennsylvania Railroad locomotives pulling out of the yards, and tugboats shoving food across the Hudson for the maw of Manhattan.

Flatwheel had poliomyelitis when he was eight. Other kids died that year, but Flatwheel came out of it with a lot of iron on his legs and a clank in his walk. He was a skinny, serious boy with eyes like black soup plates. The fellows on the corner made fun of him when he passed, but Flatwheel pretended that he didn't hear.

He had to. He had no means of fighting them, and they had the strength to cripple him a little bit more. It was the same in school. Nobody called him names in the presence of the teacher, but at recess — well, that was a tiny hell of its own.

Ironically, no one knew anything tangible about Flatwheel. They knew where he lived; it was over a candy store on Washington Street. No one ever saw Flatwheel go into the store, like other boys, because he never had any money. In winter he wore a faded mackinaw and floppy sneakers.

As a teenager, he seldom looked at a girl because he couldn't afford the candy in that window either. The teachers said he was a B plus student, but at lunchtime, he did not eat; just picked a shady cellar window and sat on the sill with those broomstick legs stuck straight out.

One night when he was home, his mother, a plump woman with no neck, poured tea. "This is dinner," she said. "Your father didn't bring any money home this week." Flatwheel pushed the cup away. "Thanks," he said.

His father had not come home empty. He had a bottle of gin and he came out of the bedroom with it. He poured a hooker for himself and a smaller one for his wife. The kid knew his father: a man who bet every race and drank every drink. The big dark eyes looked up and he said to his father: "I must say it. I hate you." His father said nothing; just smiled and leaned across the crumby table and whacked Flatwheel hard.

The boy got off the floor with blood on his lip. His mother had opened the dumbwaiter and was using a broom handle to knock for the lady across the hall. "Come on in," she said. "Bring your mister. We're celebrating." The people came in. They too were fine examples of the illiterate, the ignorant, the dogmatic.

"What's the matter with him?" they said. "Oh," the mother said, "he's eighteen now and he's trying to hate his father. And, mind you, after all we've done for him." Flatwheel sat panting near the kitchen stove. Tears stood on his lids and he said: "I can't stand going hungry any more. I just can't stand it." He pointed to his father. "He works in the sugar factory and earns good money and puts it all on horses and that stuff."

The man next store said: "You should be grateful to your dad. He works hard. He needs a little relaxation. How many fathers would tolerate a son who can't even deliver newspapers?" Flatwheel became venomous. "I hate him and someday I'll kill him." The three adults looked shocked. "I mean it," he said. "Everyword of it. Maybe I can't help to bring in money, but I'm tired of begging for something to eat."

Four months later, the weather was balmy. Flatwheel came home and found the people next door roistering with his mother and father. "I saved two pieces of toast for you," his mother said. "The meat's gone."

Flatwheel said nothing. He clanked across the kitchen, picked up the stove poker, and swung with all his might. For his father, it was lights out forever. The police thought it was second degree homicide until they questioned the neighbors. They made excellent witnesses. Flatwheel's threats came back to haunt him. He was in Hudson County court on a charge of first degree murder. The press felt that no jury would send a cripple to the electric chair. The press, sadly, is often wrong in predicting events to come.

Hunger, it turned out, was no excuse. Witnesses said that Flatwheel could have appealed to county organizations which care for the indigent. The fact that Flatwheel never heard of them was not a mitigating circumstance.

They sent him to Trenton to die. Flatwheel was a model prisoner. On his last day on earth, Warden Tim Murphy appeared before his cell and said: "Sonny, the state will give you anything you want to eat today. What will it be?"

Flatwheel laughed and laughed. "What's so funny?" Murphy said. The young man shook his head. "If you had asked me that question a year ago, I wouldn't be here."

Quilty Firm Announces New Agency

KINGSTON
A new company, Hudson Valley Life Insurance Associates, has been formed in Kingston by the Lawrence A. Quilty Insurance Agency, 58 Pearl Street.

The company will concentrate on selling and servicing business life insurance, pension programs, personal life insurance, estate planning, hospitalization, major medical programs, and mutual funds.

Joint owners will be Lawrence A. Quilty and Gilbert Adin. Both men will maintain their activity in the Quilty Insurance Agency.

The new company has been appointed general agent of INA Life of New York, known also as Insurance Company of North America, with home offices in Philadelphia.

Changes Address

The B&H Automotive Repair Shop has changed its address from Boices Lane, Town of Ulster, to 2 Wrentham Street, City of Kingston effective Feb. 9, according to Richard Scism and Edward Crantz. They are partners in the business and decided to move from Ulster to Kingston because of a better location, access to more business, and larger facilities for an expanding business, said Scism.

Home Builders Group to Hear Underwriter

NEWBURGH

The Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley, Inc. will hear Herbert Cronin, chief underwriter of the New York office of the Federal Housing Administration, at Tuesday's meeting at Rhoda Arms, Route 9W, Newburgh.

Cronin will outline the expected 1970 relationship between the FHA and local builders. Kenneth Russ, president of Home Builders, said, "Due to the current tight money market FHA guaranteed mortgages are playing an increasing role in the overall mortgage picture." Cronin, assisted by two FHA staff members, will also detail the federal government's plans for housing in 1970.

The Association involves persons from Ulster, Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, and Sullivan Counties.

Appoint Kahil

The Shatemuck Realty Company of Wall Street announced today the appointment of Richard Kahil of the Rainbow Lodge of Mt. Tremper, on Route 212, as a representative of the Kingston organization. Kahil will operate the Shatemuck agency from his home.

PRATTSVILLE—An early morning burglary at the post office in this Greene County community, during which an unsuccessful attempt was made to open the safe which was later carried from the building and subsequently recovered, was under investigation today.

BCI officers from Leeds State Police in charge of Investigator Richard Ryan, reportedly were looking for a truck involved in the case.

A spokesman at the post office said entry was gained by forcing a window. The investigation disclosed that the combination mechanism of the safe had been smashed in an unsuccessful attempt to open it.

Hurley GOP Meets

The Town of Hurley Republican Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday 8 p.m. at Rolling Acres Restaurant, Glenford.

Guest speaker will be Gerald Nocton, co-administrator of Benedictine Hospital. Final plans will be made for the annual St. Patrick's dinner dance.

The burglary came at attention of authorities after 2 a.m. when a resident telephoned State Police and reported a safe had dropped from a vehicle on Route 23 not far from the post office. It apparently had rolled

Goes Skiing, Lands in Jail

HUNTER—A New York City man went to the Hunter Ski Bowl on Sunday for a day of recreation and he landed — not at the bottom of the slope but in the Greene County jail, according to State Police at Leeds.

William J. Falkenburg, 20, of 410 East 54th Street, New York City, was arrested on a charge of possessing stolen property — a pair of skis belonging to another man.

Arraigned before Village Police Justice Robert Gooley, Falkenburg pleaded guilty. He was committed to jail and sentencing was put over until Wednesday, Feb. 25.

According to a report of Trooper R. J. Stabile, a resident who was not identified, had complained three weeks ago that someone stole his skis. He kept a locker area under surveillance and yesterday his suspicion paid off. It was reported the skier spotted Falkenburg removing the skis and police were notified.

KTA Levels Grievance on Salzmann Post

KINGSTON—The Kingston Teachers Association has instituted a grievance action against the Kingston Consolidated Schools Board of Education charging that the board has violated a collective bargaining agreement in its appointment of Louis A. Salzmann as superintendent of schools.

Richard J. Davis, president of KTF informed The Freeman today that the action was decided at an "emergency" meeting of his organization's executive committee Saturday.

The board has 10 days in which to respond to the grievance and call a hearing.

Davis contends that the collective bargaining agreement calls for posting of notices in schools to inform professional employees that there is an opening in the administration to be filled.

Desk Sgt. Is Attacked, Man Jailed

KINGSTON—A Spring Glen man is in Ulster County Jail following his alleged attack on Desk Sergeant Delbert Sapp Friday afternoon in the sheriff's office.

According to a report of the department, Sylvester Nixon, 39, of Homowack Lodge, Spring Glen, struck Sapp in the left eye, breaking his glasses causing "severe physical injury."

Sapp was treated by jail physician Dr. Sidney Pauker.

The incident is alleged to have taken place at 3:50 p. m. when Nixon was brought to the sheriff's office by Woodstock police who had arrested him for public intoxication.

Apprehended by Investigator H. T. Bowers and Deputy Baschnagel, Nixon was arraigned before Town of Ulster Justice Arthur Reilly and was remanded to jail in lieu of $1,000 bail.

Esopus Legion To View Film On Navy Pilots

PORT EWEN—American Legion Post 1298 will meet in the town hall on Broadway Tuesday night at 8 p.m. and view a 20-minute film on the training of Navy pilots.

Three Are Held On Unauthorized Use of Vehicle

Three young men from North Adams, Mass., are in Ulster County Jail today in lieu of $500 bail, pending arraignment Tuesday night before Saugerties Village Justice David Goble on charges of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

They are: David Smith, 21, who faced a charge of unauthorized operator and in lieu of $100 fine was sent to jail for 30 days. Also, Fred Brown, 21, and Elias Lindendoll, 17.

The three were seen cruising in the Village of Saugerties Sunday night by the village patrol car and subsequent investigation by officers Edward Peterson and Kenneth Swart revealed the violations. Chief Gordon Keeley said today.

Smith was the operator of the vehicle and could not produce an operator's license, police said.

$8,600 for Hospital; Ellenville Auxiliary

The Ellenville Community Hospital Auxiliary recently presented a check in the amount of $8,600 to Ewald Bors-Koefoed, hospital administrator, thus concluding a year of volunteer work in the coffee shop and on the gift cart. The presentation was made by Mrs. Marcia Resnick, auxiliary treasurer for 1969. The money will be used in the general operation of the medical facility.

In her presidential message, Mrs. Bernard Wenig paid tribute " . . . to the many who give part of their spare time . . . in the service of their choice."

Coordinating volunteer activities is Marge Hornbeck, director of volunteers, a paid position at the hospital.

Mrs. Wenig has also urged all volunteers to check their eligibility for a service pin. Deadline for earning service pins is March 31, 1970.

The next membership meeting is scheduled for April 13 at 7 p.m. All members are urged to attend. It will be Awards Night.

Mower - Murphy Wedding in Saugerties

Miss JoAnn Mower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard N. Mower of 7 Morris Street, Saugerties, exchanged nuptial vows with Timothy Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Murphy of 128 Elm Street, Saugerties, Saturday, Jan. 31 at St. Mary of the Snow Church in Saugerties.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles Kaufman, pastor of St. Mary's, and the Rev. Hugh Hines of Siena College, celebrated the nuptial Mass and officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Nan Dickman, organist, provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of white gladioli and pink pompons decorated the altar and family pews were marked by white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire gown of white Jakarta. Venice lace trimmed the ring collar and the center of the bodice. The gown featured puffed sleeves and a chapel length train trimmed with Venice lace. A headpiece styled with pearls on Venice lace held her silk illusion veil and she carried a nosegay of white carnations, white pompons and yellow sweetheart roses with yellow and white satin streamers.

Miss Jean Marie Mower of Saugerties was maid of honor for her sister in a pink Jakarta gown, trimmed with Venice lace at the empire line and back panel. She wore a matching headpiece of pink ribbon and white daisies and carried a nosegay of pink carnations, pink pompons and white sweetheart roses with pink and white satin streamers.

Thomas H. Murphy of 128 Elm Street, Saugerties, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were John Carnright Jr., cousin of the bridegroom, Post Street, Saugerties; and Frank Fila of Chatham.

A reception for 100 guests was held at Flamingo Restaurant in Saugerties.

For her wedding trip to upstate New York, the bride selected an orchid linen dress, trimmed with gold chain, brown coat and accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Saugerties High School, is employed by Barclay Knitwear Inc., Port Ewen.

Her husband, an alumnus of Saugerties High School, is a senior at Siena College, Loudonville, where he is an economics major. He has been appointed legislative intern to Assemblyman H. Clark Bell, and is a member of Siena ROTC where he will be commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will reside at Saugerties.

Doctor O.K.'s This Hemorrhoid Treatment For N.J. Couple's Son

Treatment Shrinks Piles,
Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Wharton, N.J. Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Jeffers report: "Our son suffered from hemorrhoids. I asked the doctor about Preparation H and he gave us the O.K. Our son is now fine, thanks to Preparation H." (Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

New Fresca. The only good-tasting sugar-free soft drink in town.

Still only 2 calories per 8 ounce serving.

No cyclamates.

Now available in convenient no-deposit, no-return bottles.

We're not going to let you or your waistline down. New Fresca is cyclamate-free, of course. But Fresca is sugar-free, as well. Other leading diet drinks have added sugar, and sugar means lots of calories.

We didn't add sugar. New Fresca still has only 3 calories per 12-ounce can. We found a way to keep the taste in and the sugar out. New Fresca is the only good-tasting sugar-free soft drink in town.

Chamber President Is Woman; Serves Northern Dutchess Area

Helen Z. Battistoni, second woman to serve as president of the Rhinebeck Chamber of Commerce, feels women are playing a greater role in today's development of Northern Dutchess.

A successful realtor, Mrs. Battistoni feels women are very important in the world of business inasmuch as their time is more "flexible." In her own realty office, she employs mostly saleswomen.

About her position as president of the Rhinebeck Chamber, she says, "this is not a professional, incorporated Chamber of Commerce although I am sure the community could benefit with a full time professional." Mrs. Battistoni was elected president in 1969. The first woman president was Eleanor Closs.

Membership in the Chamber currently lists 83 businesses and interested parties. A new brochure is expected to be made available by summertime. It will list the positive aspects of the area for business, pleasure and living.

While Mrs. Battistoni recognizes the historical and residential attractions of the community, she would love to see a shopping center built and more effort expended toward attracting industry. She feels the lack of a proper sewerage system is another impediment to growth and says, "... this project has been studied for years and someone even went so far as to find out the State aid available for it at the time. But taxpayers naturally do not want to pay for sewerage."

Mrs. Battistoni worked in the Kane Agency before starting her own real estate business on East Market Street in 1967. By her own admission she is doing "very well."

Born in New York City, she attended high school and trade school in Red Hook and is a graduate of Northern Dutchess Training School for Nurses which has since been discontinued.

A member of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Rhinebeck, she is active on the Realty Boards of Dutchess and Columbia Counties and is a member of Northern Dutchess Business and Professional Women's Club which she served as vice president. She declined a nomination to the presidency because of heavy commitments.

When her busy schedule permits, Mrs. Battistoni enjoys painting and poetry.

Chancellor Livingston DAR

In observing February as American History Month, members of the Daughters of the American Revolution hope to perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American Independence. Tribute is paid to those who signed the Declaration of Independence for they sacrificed much to establish our freedom. Of the 56 men who placed their lives and fortunes in jeopardy to sign, five were captured by the British and tortured before they died, 12 had their homes ransacked and burned; two lost their sons in the Revolutionary War and another had two sons captured. Nine fought and died in the Revolutionary action and several others died in poverty while others died broken hearted. The Chancellor Livingston Chapter of the DAR conducted an essay contest in tribute to American History Month. Subject was "The Declaration of Independence and Its Signers."

Participating schools were Rhinebeck Central, Red Hook Central and St. Christopher's. Awards were won as follows:

Rhinebeck Schools — Fifth grade, David Coon, first; Peter McClenahan, second; Ida Tompkins, and Doris Burford, honorable mention; Sixth grade, Peter Zannis, first; Lorraine Jones, second; and Julie Rasmussen, honorable mention; Eighth grade, Debra Fingar, first.

Red Hook Schools — Fifth grade, David Cohn, first; Karen Born, second; Kenneth Hejnal and Carol Mickler, honorable mention; Sixth grade, Caroline Oja, first; Alan Hejnal, second; Douglas Mulvaney, honorable mention; Eighth grade, Eileen Coon, first.

St. Christopher's Parochial School—Eighth grade, William Lampeter, first; Clara Duntz, second.

Essays were written also on "What the American Flag Means to Me." Winners are:

Rhinebeck—Seventh grade, Paul Marvin, first; Alyce Jochus, second; Peter Hill, Stephen Dahlem, honorable mention.

Red Hook—Seventh grade, Shawn Pine, first.

St. Christopher — Eighth grade, Marlene Sanford, first and Mary Hoch, second.

Awards will be presented at the Rhinebeck Town Hall on Friday, Feb. 13 at 8 p.m. Parents and friends are invited. Chairman and co-chairman of the essay contest are Mrs. Ernst von Brand and Mrs. Welding Mohr.

Named to Dean's List Peter J. Mancuso, son of Alderman and Mrs. Peter J. Mancuso of 171 West Chester Street, Kingston, has been named to the Dean's List at Hart College of Music, University of Hartford, for the third time.

Mancuso is a sophomore at Hart College. He was named to the Dean's List during both terms of his freshman year. He is a 1968 graduate of Kingston High School.

Doing The Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute
CANDY INSTEAD OF CIGARS

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mrs. W. Brown of Carmel, New York.

Dear Mrs. Post: We gave out cigars when our first son was born three and a half years ago. At that time my husband smoked cigars (we had both given up cigarettes). When our second baby was due, we decided if we wanted to live to raise our family my husband would give up cigars when baby number two arrived.

When the baby came, my husband gave out candy and explained that he had given up smoking and was not giving out something he would not use himself. I felt a little funny at first — not celebrating in the traditional way, but in light of what we know about cancer today, couldn't you alter your advice and recommend that people give up a truly antiquated custom. Perhaps your condemning the procedure would save some lives.— Mrs. W. Brown.

Mrs. Brown's suggestion has my full and unqualified approval. Need I say more?

Serving Champagne at Wedding Buffet

Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning a wedding party in a small apartment. It will be a dinner buffet. The guests will be served at card tables. Should the champagne be served before, after, or with the meal?—Mrs. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: Serve the champagne with the meal. Wine or another beverage may be served from the beginning to the end of the meal. If you do not wish to do that, however, it may be served with the dessert and after the meal.

So You're Planning to Give a Shower! This booklet tells you everything you need to know for a bridal shower, a welcome party for a new neighbor, the local minister or anyone else. To get a copy, send twenty-five cents in coin to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Daily Freeman.

Glasco Auxiliary Meeting Tuesday

Amendments will be revised at the Tuesday, Feb. 10 meeting of Glasco Firemen's Auxiliary. Mrs. June Pawlows, president, has urged all members to attend.

Plans will also be discussed concerning a penny social which will be held in April. Committee members include Joyce Brazier, chairman, assisted by Theresa Mauro, Rosemarie Sasso, Geraldine Spada, June Pawlows and Shirley Ebel.

Those wishing to contribute gifts should contact the committee.

Tiny Tips

MINCED FOOD

When a recipe directs you to mince an ingredient, chop it extremely fine. Minced food is finer than chopped food.

FRENCH DRESSING

It's easy to make chocolate-peppermint milk shakes. Use a couple of glasses of milk, a couple of tablespoons of chocolate syrup from a can and about one-quarter teaspoon of peppermint extract. Thoroughly beat together all the ingredients.

PUREE AVOCADO

When you want to puree avocado for a spread or dip, use an electric blender. Peel the avocado and cut it into chunks before blending at high speed.

BROILER — FRYERS

You can roast three-pound broiler-fryers in a 375-degree oven allowing about half an hour per pound.

PETER FERRARO

Valentine Dance At Coleman School

The Parents Association of the John A. Coleman High School has arranged to have the Peter Ferraro Orchestra provide music for the annual dance on Valentine's evening, February 14. Dancing will be from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. at the Coleman School on Hurley Avenue.

The public is invited and anyone desiring reservations may contact either Mrs. Fred Renn, 22 Andrew Street, or Mrs. Bruce R. Davis, Port Ewen.

A gala occasion is anticipated for all who wish to see how "Love Makes the World Go Round."

Maxin Cited By President

The late Roland J. Maxin, who lived at 150 West O'Reilly Street, has been cited for service in World War II in a letter from President Nixon.

Mr. Maxin, who died on Sept. 23, 1969, served in the European Theater in World War II and was a German prisoner for 18 months. He was awarded the Purple Heart, among other decorations.

The letter from President Nixon "honors the memory" of Mr. Maxin.

Rocky on BOCES, Proclaims Week

NEW PALTZ federal surveys which revealed that two thirds of the nation's youth do not graduate from a four-year college. Because of the tremendous burden to be assumed by the secondary schools, the Vocational Education Act of 1963 was passed by Congress. Federal funds augmented by state funds supported a local survey of available vocational education courses and corresponding employment opportunities in Ulster, Greene and Sullivan Counties.

Michael M. Aronica, Tri-county Director of Vocational Education, submitted a report to the executive committee comprised of the chief school administrators of these counties which led ultimately to the present single county plan for each area.

"We are making progress in our attempt to match people and available employment opportunities," Aronica offered, "however, attitudinal changes in our society and chiefly among parents, come slowly," he added. "Far too many parents have aspirations for their children which are unattainable. The idea that the 'Key to success' is a college education has been over-sold and has been inflicted on the public so repeatedly and with such authority that we have become victims of this deception."

Congressman Roman Pucinski of Illinois, chairman of the subcommittee on education said recently in Washington at a meeting of educators, "We have the highest unemployment rate in the 16-19 year old age group — 24 per cent of the white youth of that age group are unemployed and a staggering 33 per cent of the Negroes in that age group are unemployed, simply because they are unemployable. They are young people who have no concept of the world of work. What a fantastic waste of human resources.

"The picture becomes even more dismal among the young women of this country in the age group of 16-19. Twenty four per cent of the white females in that age group who are not in school are unemployed, while a staggering forty-nine per cent of the Negro females are unemployed. You ask yourselves why you have unrest — social problems in America? You had better look at the educational system that has produced these tragic statistics."

"We in Ulster County BOCES, together with the Kingston, Saugerties, Onteora, Rondout Valley, New Paltz, Wallkill, Highland and Ellenville school districts, are working diligently to change those figures in our County," stated Dr. Roosa. He continued, "Our vocational guidance counselors, as well as the counselors in the component schools, are always available to students and parents so that each may be helped to his respective path to success."

PROCLAIM VOCATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK—Peter J. Savago (C), chairman of the Ulster County Legislature, proclaims February 8 through 14 as Vocational Education Week in the county. Present for the signing are (L) Michael M. Aronica, director of vocational education, and Dr. Jack L. Roosa, superintendent of Ulster County Board of Cooperative Educational Services.

DRAFTING FINE POINTS—Robert Tubbs of Highland gets expert instruction in drafting and design techniques from Vincent Bitonte, instructor at the BOCES vocational education center in Kingston. COMPUTER CLUES—Virginia Fuoco learns ins and outs of computer programming at the vocational education center in Kingston. Such modern career skills are but a part of the overall vocational education program offered through BOCES centers here and in New Paltz. (O'Leary photo)

HOBBY SHOW FEATURE—William J. Stanley of Port Ewen displays a working model of a tugboat constructed by his grandfather, Stephen Merkel, nearly 100 years ago. The tugboats pulled barges on Rondout Creek about a century ago. This sidewheeler is nine feet long with a beam of 31 inches and its engine is capable of pulling a rowboat with four men at a speed of three miles per hour. It has long been a display piece exhibited in firemen's parades and at other functions. Stanley has continued the hobby of his grandfather for the past 45 years. Stanley's hobby with this model and several others will be features of the annual flea market and hobby show of Town of Esopus Lions Club to be held Feb. 12 and 13 at the Town Hall, Port Ewen, from 7 to 10 p.m. All proceeds will go toward scholarships, sight conservation and other community projects of the Lions Club. Bell: Need New Laws On Emergency Lights

ALBANY of the chief executive officer of the fire department to which he belongs, would be permitted to use one flashing blue light. The law would stipulate that this type of light would be reserved exclusively for volunteer firemen.

The measure, according to Bell, would go a long way toward helping to reduce driver confusion and traffic mishaps. It creates four categories of vehicles legally permitted to carry flashing color lights as follows:

Emergency — Only authorized emergency vehicles (ambulance, police, fire) would be permitted to use a red and/or white light which can flash, revolve, or oscillate. Vehicles such as tow trucks or highway maintenance trucks would no longer be allowed to display this type of light which would be reserved exclusively for true emergency vehicles.

Hazardous — Hazardous vehicles (public and private utility vehicles, tow trucks, vehicles involved in highway maintenance or in ice or snow removal) would now be authorized to display one flashing amber light.

Volunteer Firemen — The privately owned vehicles of a volunteer fireman or a member of his family, upon authorization byman Bell said.

CP THEME CHILD—Linda Cunningham, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Cunningham, 1 Oriole Drive, Woodstock, is the theme child for Ulster County in the 1970 Albany Cerebral Palsy telethon. She is a fifth-grade student at the Edson School and a third-year member of Girl Scout Troop 43, Woodstock. Linda, a native of Memphis, Tenn., will be seen over Channel 16, WTEN-TV, Albany. The telethon will run continuously from 11 p.m. on Saturday to 5 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 21-22. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Has Not Sent Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Democratic Leader Carl Albert says President Nixon, despite his statements about the need for a war on crime, has yet to send a bill or any other communication to Congress asking for money for that purpose.

"This failure certainly belies the grave sense of urgency with which the President dealt with crime in his State of the Union message," Albert said in a statement Sunday. His comments were seen as a counterattack against the administration which has been accusing Democrats of holding up anticrime legislation.

Marist Outfoxes State U

NEW PALTZ of the season," said Coach Doug Sheppard. "We were caught before the first half ended after a nip-n-tuck battle over the first 18 minutes. Leading 34-26, at intermission the Red Foxes saw their lead cut to five points by the Hawks. Ray Manning scored with 24 points. Dane's 15 points led the Hawks, while Bob Freer and Jim Leonardo added 10 points each.

Another First for UCLA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
No. 1-ranked UCLA is finally first in the Pacific-8, as well, but Kentucky, which fell from the top several weeks ago, is now having trouble shaking unheralded Georgia in the Southeastern Conference.

The 17-0 Bruins, shooting for their fourth consecutive national championship, continued as the only major unbeaten team Saturday with a hard-fought 66-65 triumph over Washington. But 11th-ranked Southern California, which had been tied for the Pac-8 lead, lost to Washington State 89-72 and dropped a game behind UCLA.

Henry Bibby led the way against Washington's tough zone defense with 19 points, the same number scored by the losers' Steve Hawes, returning to action after missing six weeks with a fractured leg. The Bruins led 30-25 at halftime and were unable to shake the Huskies until the closing minutes.

Dan Issel's school record 53 points led third-ranked Kentucky to a 120-85 victory over Mississippi but Georgia, 11-6 overall to Kentucky's 17-1, remained deadlocked with the Wildcats with 9-1 SEC records by edging Vanderbilt 49-90.

Second-ranked South Carolina and No. 5 North Carolina State, both 17-1, continued to run 1-2 in the Atlantic Coast conference. The Gamecocks boosted their ACC mark to 8-0 by routing Clemson 99-52 behind John Roche, who scored 25 points and had seven assists; Tom Owens, 22 points, 25 rebounds and 10 blocked shots, and Bobby Cremins, who held Clemson's high-scoring Butch Zatezalo to four points.

N.C. State won for the seventh time in eight ACC starts, riding Vann Williford's 25 points and tie-breaking layup with 91 seconds left to a 71-66 decision over Virginia.

Bob Lanier, St. Bonaventure's 6-foot-11 center, scored 34 points and held 7-foot Doug Hess to eight points and a like number of rebounds - as the fourth-ranked Bonnies dropped Toledo 77-71 for a 15-1 record.

Sixth-ranked New Mexico State, 18-2, trailed Utah State for 23 minutes before pulling out a 95-90 triumph over the Aggies. Austin Carr, who scored 38 points and set a Notre Dame season record of 67.5, tied the score at 81 with a layup as the overtime buzzer sounded and the Irish went on to beat ninth-rated Marquette, 143, in the second extra session 96-95.

Sophomores Bob Morse and Corky Calhoun combined for 40 points and 10th-ranked Penn shot 53 per cent in defeating Dartmouth 96-68. The Quakers maintained their one-game Ivy League lead over No. 17 Columbia, which crushed Yale 96-69 as Jim McMillan hit 14 of 19 shots for 28 points.

The No. 7 and No. 8 teams, North Carolina and Jacksonville, were idle.

In the top individual effort of the weekend, Louisiana State's Pete Maravich, already the all-time career scoring leader, exploded for 69 points, third highest in major college history, but couldn't prevent a 106-104 loss to Alabama. The game wound up with a fight between LSU players and Alabama fans.

Elsewhere among the Second Ten teams in the Associated Press poll, No. 12 Florida State, ineligible for post-season competition, got by Dayton 82-76.

Iowa opened up a 1½ game lead in the Big Ten. The 20th-ranked Hawkeyes whipped Indiana 104-89 while Illinois, No. 14 lost to Minnesota and fell into a second-place tie with Purdue.

Davidson, ranked 15th, outlasted Virginia Tech 73-66 in overtime; No. 16 Houston dropped Creighton 78-77; Colorado slowed Kansas State's Big Eight runaway with a 72-59 verdict over the 18th-ranked Wildcats and No. 19 Villanova crushed Philadelphia Big Five rival St. Joseph's 92-65.

Take AAU Bobsled Title

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (UPI)—The Adirondack AAU two-man bobsled championship was won by the team of Navy Lt. Paul Lamey driving and Bill Coulson on the brakes Sunday on the Mt. Van Hoevenberg bobsled run.

More than 1,000 spectators watched as the winners turned in a total time of 4:43.02 for the four heats. The best time of the day was the winning team's third heat of 1:09.57.

Seven sleds qualified for the final competition.

The U.S. Air Force team with Gary Sheffield driving and Howard Siler on brake placed second with a total time of 4:48.53.

THE PAYOFF — Bruce Devlin, Pompano Beach, Fla. (L) displays his $25,000 check as he, Bob Hope (C) and Vice President Spiro Agnew (R) pose behind the Dwight D. Eisenhower trophy, named in honor of the late president. Devlin came from two strokes behind in the final round to win by four strokes with a 339 for 90 holes in the Bob Hope Classic. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Devlin's 339 Takes Bob Hope Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Australian Bruce Devlin tucked away a fat $25,000 today and the 11th annual $125,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic goes into the books as the Agnew Year.

The 32-year-old Devlin closed the 90-hole, five-day marathon as hot as the 85 degree weather, shooting a six-under par 66 to better previous rounds of 67-68-68-70, all for a total of 339.

It was 21 strokes under par for the distance and eclipsed Larry Ziegler, who led or shared the lead from the outset, as the blond better from Terre Du Lac, Mo., finished with a 72 for a 343.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew presented the winner's check to Devlin and in good humor took a gentle ribbing about the "hit" of the tournament—the ball he shanked that hit the most unlikely target around, Doug Sanders, the vice president's own playing professional, Saturday.

The shot cut into Sanders' scalp but he continued the round of 18 holes with Agnew, Bob Hope and U.S. Senator George Murphy, R-Calif.

"With all that crowd I thought someone might get hit, but not me," Sanders said laughing. "I thought I was safe in the fairway but I got caught in the cross-fire."

Sanders emphasized it had been a pleasure and an honor to play with Agnew and complimented him for his composure under adverse circumstances and lack of time to play regularly.

Back to golf. Ziegler began the round two strokes in front of Devlin, three over young Larry Hinson, with Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer, defending champion Billy Casper and U.S. Open champion Orville Moody further back.

The struggle quickly became a two-man issue. Hinson had a 73 for 347, Palmer 70 for 348, and Casper 70 for 351. And Moody 72 for 355.

Ziegler opened with a 15-foot putt for a birdie three on the first hole to lead by three. But Devlin, whose last tournament triumph was in the Byron Nelson Classic last year, birdied the third and fourth greens to narrow the gap.

The two made the turn through the 81st hole all even as Ziegler three-putted for a bogey. Devlin went ahead when Larry hit over the green on the 84th and took a bogey four. Two more Devlin birdies and a Ziegler bogey clinched the matter.

Ziegler, with previous rounds of 67-65-68-71, collected $14,300. Devlin returns to his home

Ulster Matmen Check Dutchess CCC, 30-13

KINGSTON—Ulster County Community College's wrestling team evened its season record at 5 and 5 with a 30-13, win over Dutchess Community College Saturday night.

Senator pins were scored by Fran Colone in the 118 pound class, Rich Oakley in the 142 pound division Neil Scoville in the 177 class and Mike Watson in the heavyweight contest. The Senators won two weight classes by forfeit and dropped two by forfeit. The 158 weight class had no entry from either team. The Senators have a conference record of 1 win and two defeats. Ulster will host Fulton-Montgomery, Tuesday Feb. 10, at the Municipal Auditorium.

The results:

Ulster 30, Dutchess 13

118—Fran Colone-U, pinned Bob Blauvelt; T-2:56.

STONE RIDGE—It seems that a great many Ulster County residents have taken the old saying "get a horse" seriously and have done just that.

In 1960, there were only 30 horses owned by 4-H members in Ulster County. In 1968, the count was 156, but by 1969 it had suddenly jumped to 274. Still these are horses owned only by 4-H members between the ages of 10 and 18 years.

The Woodstock Riding Club boasts 83 horse-owning adult members, most of whom own more than two horses. Although no figures have been received from the Lowlands Ranch Club, we are sure their membership contains a comparable number of horse owners. We also have to take into consideration the many people who own horses, but do not belong to any clubs.

Several Top Farms—Ulster County houses several reputable horse farms, as well as a number of full time horse dealers. Although many area horses are used strictly for pleasure, more horse shows seem to spring up on the calendar each year. The ever increasing number of exhibitors are filling the classes to the point that they have to be divided into two sections before a judge can pick the finalists that will vie for only four places.

With the exception of junior shows, no longer is there the little "local show." Nearly every area show now attracts exhibitors from several states, particularly the two annual Registered Quarter Horse Shows staged by Lowlands and Woodstock, where several World Champions have been shown by the nation's top riders.

Paying Higher Prices—Area residents are paying higher prices than ever for top-notch horses to keep up with the keen competition. Prices for registered animals start at about a thousand dollars, which in big show circles is considered "peanuts." The average trained show horse can cost between two and five thousand dollars. Of course, there are still a lot of grade horses being shown in open shows in our area which do not command such high prices. The Registered Quarter Horse Shows are another story.

Last year at Woodstock's Quarter Horse Show there were horses walking around with $40,000 price tags. At any rate, we are moving forward in the horse world. With shows right here in our own backyard almost every weekend, 1970 promises to be another exciting year for Ulster County horsemen.

The following is a 1970 show calendar. Several annual shows are not included since these dates have not yet been confirmed.

Educational films on the "American Quarter Horse" are being sponsored monthly by the Eta Sigma Eta 4-H Horse Club. The next film will be shown at the 4-H office at 74 John street on February 20 at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited and there is no admission charge.

Berry and Caldwell Are Ski Jump Winners

Favor Billy Kidd For the Combined

VAL GARDENA, Italy (UPI)—Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., found himself today a surprise favorite for the combined Alpine title in the world ski championships.

Kidd, who finished third in the slalom Sunday behind Frenchmen Jean-Noel Augert and Patrick Russel, aimed for an extremely fast clocking in a heat of today's giant slalom to increase his chances for the world title.

There are no medals at stake today since only one heat of the giant slalom is on the skiing schedule.

The 26-year-old Vermont skier, winless in Europe since 1966, won a third place medal in the slalom when he sped through the gates in the second heat with a 47.84 clocking that turned out to be the fastest run of the day.

His combined total of 99.53 seconds, however, was only good enough for third as Augert, often compared favorably with Olympic gold medalist Jean Claude Killy, won the slalom with a total time of 99.47 seconds. Russel, previously favored to win the championship because of three victories in world cup slalom competition, was timed in 99.51.

Nineteen men were listed for today's first heat which will be run over a 68-gate course 1,490 meters (4,917 feet) long with a vertical drop of 447 meters (1,464 feet). Georges Gruenfelder of Switzerland has set 68 gates.

Reigning world champion Karl Schranz and compatriot Heini Messner, were disqualified in the slalom on Austria's "Black Sunday" when the once mighty Austrians failed to place any of her four men in the finishing list.

The 31-year-old Schranz, now specializing more and more in the downhill, and Messner both played it safe in the slalom, yet ended up missing gates in the second heat on the tricky, icy and superfast course.

The French have left one downhill place open so if either Augert and Russel, or Alain Penz, who finished fifth in the slalom, score well enough in the giant slalom, then one of them will probably be given a run in the downhill in order to have a chance of winning the combined title.

Elect Phil Hartman
WESTBURY, N. Y. (UPI)—Phil Hartman of the Cleveland Press Sunday was elected president of the Harness Writers Association of America.

Bill Connolly of the Meadows in Pittsburgh was named first vice president and Allen Finkelson of Monticello Raceway was selected as second vice president. Bill Brown of Batavia Downs was chosen as secretary.

By CHARLES J. TIANO Sports Editor

Avery Caldwell, a big, strapping Middlebury College senior, won't complain if you refer to him as the Joe Kapp of the ski jumping world.

One of the country's greatest jumpers, Caldwell had his trouble with the form judges in Saturday's first half of the annual Rosendale Ski Jump sponsored by the Rosendale Outing Club.

He soared over the 200-foot mark twice, with leaps of 203 and 200 feet, but a poor form rating on his second jump gave the victory to Scott Berry of Dartmouth, who had jumps of 196 and 199 feet, on a fast track at the 70-meter Mt. Joppenbergh Hill.

Strong on Sunday

The track was slower Sunday, but while it stopped other jumpers, Caldwell was as strong as ever off the outrun to rack up beautiful flights of 199 feet and 209, just five feet off the all-time record of 214 feet set in last year's event by Frank Keller, the West Germany Olympic Gold Medalist.

Berry, the Saturday winner, had to settle for jumps of 179 and 194 feet for 183 points, behind Caldwell's leading 197.7. On Saturday, Berry posted 196.3 points to 193.5 for the durable Caldwell.

In the Saturday half, Caldwell trailed Berry in style points, 87.5 to 81.5 and that was the difference. A costly 39.5 style rating despite a 200-foot jump was too much handicap for Caldwell to overcome despite a combined 403-395 foot edge in jumping distance.

Densmore Wins Combined

Jay Densmore of Dartmouth College captured the New York State Combined Championship with 402.5 points, a hefty margin over runnerup Bill Purcell of Lebanon, who totalled 388.1 points.

Densmore shaded Purcell by only nine seconds in the 15-kilometer cross country race. He was clocked in 52 minutes, 44 seconds. Densmore earned 220 cross country points to 218.6 for Purcell and had a 182.5-169.5 margin in jumping points.

Gordon Ross of the Chisholm Ski Club of Rumford, Maine, captured Saturday's Junior A with 110.4 points. On Sunday, it was Phil Jackson of Mt. Beacon with 120.6 points. Ed Hunlock of the Rosendale Nordics placed second with 98.8 points.

Two Double Winners

Richard Nicolaysen of St. Lawrence University and Don West of Brattleboro, Vt., scored sweeps in Class B and Seniors, respectively.

Nicolaysen, a steady visitor to Rosendale, accumulated 152.3 points with jumps of 168-170 feet Sunday, after totalling 167.8 with 168-170 feet on Saturday's faster track.

Mike Vorobil of the University of New Hampshire was runnerup to Nicolaysen Sunday with 148.6 points and James Densmore, the combined winner trailed him with 160.9 points in the Sunday event.

West, the Bearded Beauty from Brattleboro, got his only tries was 197 feet Saturday but a bad spill on the first jump rating off a maximum 20. "I guess this hill is my nemesis," said the Canaan great, who recently jumped 300 feet in the U. S. Nationals. A year ago, Zalanakis took a terrific spill and wound up in the hospital for a few days.

He declined to fault the Joppenbergh Hill. "It was my fault," he said. "The hill conditions were good and, as usual, the tournament was very well run."

Praise Tournament

Caldwell and Berry, the jump winners, also had high praise for the tournament, which attracted a field of about 30 jumpers.

"I thought conditions were fine," said Caldwell. "The track was a little slower today (Sunday) than yesterday but everything was great. It was a fine tournament."

The accolades from the top jumpers was music to the ears of Walt Williams, and Donald Wallace, president of the Rosendale Outing Club and other officials and workers. Weather conditions were ideal.

Naccarato's Lead

SAUGERTIES

Naccarato's Insurance held on to their half-game lead in the Saugerties Athletic Association Basketball League with a 116-111 overtime victory over the Irish Club. In the other game on the schedule, the Raiders remained in second place with an 85-75 win over Ferroxcube.

The standings:
Naccarato's ... 6 3
Raiders ... 5 3
Ferroxcube ... 5 5
Irish ... 2 7

Both teams blew sizable leads during the tilt, with the Irish tying the score, 103-all at the end of regulation play. Jack Keenan lead the winners in the overtime period, hitting six of the 13 points. It was the fifth straight win for the Insurance-men.

Keenan was the leading scorer with 27 points. Bob Whiteneu tossed in 25 points for the winners, as Al Hrdlicka hit 24. Ed Strohsahl 22, and Jack Naccarato fired in 18.

Frank Allen was high man for the game and the Irish with 30. Tim Murphy hit 27, John Kelly 26 and John Crispino 22 to round out the scoring for the losers.

Ferroxcube jumped off to an early lead, but folded in the second period and trailed by as many as 17 points. Jerry Hawkins was high for the winners with 25 markers, while Warren Grittman added 21. George Warnfield lead the losers with 18 as a tough Raider defense and an injury kept the high-scoring Pete Steinfurth well under his average with 11 points.

The Raiders meet the Insurance-men in a 1 p. m. tilt next Saturday as the race for first place continues.

Ulster Routs DCC, 128-54

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

KINGSTON — The UCCC Senators played Saturday night's game against down-trodden Dutchess Community strictly for experience Saturday night at the municipal auditorium.

It was experience for the taxi squad, which clocked more mileage in one game than it had all season, as the Senators demolished their Dutchess neighbors, 128 to 54.

Statistically, it was Ulster's 17th win in 19 games to date, its 25 straight victory at home, 7-0 in the Mid-Hudson Conference where the locals have won something like 31 out of their last 32.

Couch Mike Perry kept his promise to start big Bob Klementis and Gary Flowers, the homegrown boys, but for a couple of minutes he may have had some second thoughts about his new strategy. Would you believe that 2-15 Dutchess held the mighty UCCC machine scoreless through the first two minutes? And when did that happen last at the Broadway boards?

The rout starts But things straightened out in the next 45 seconds when Jerry Moss triggered an eight-point spree and it went to 10-0 before Kevin Joyce connected with Dutchess' first basket.

Moss continued to flash a hot hand in the first half, collecting 20 of his 28 points as the Senators moved to a 68-26 lead.

It was never a ball game after that first UCCC thrust. The score went to 23-6, 40-17 and then out of sight.

All the Ulster boys came to play Saturday night and they all got a chance. Coach Perry gave Klementis, the former OCS laddie a good workout and he responded with eight points. Everybody got into the scoring act, with Glenn Berry pouring in 22, Larry Trippodo 17 with another series of beautiful set shots; Tony Pough 12 and Ed Torroni 13 for the double figure fellows.

Bill Komisar led Dutchess with 13 points most of them in the late going. Jerry Tucker, son of the human fireplug, managed circles is that Evans would like to depart the beautiful campus. But a check with the Dutchess publicity department Friday elicited the information that "Mr. Evans is on scouting trip." Just chalk it up as the year of the crucible.

combined with Venson and Carty to force the many Maroon errors. Apply more pressure than the visitors could handle in the third quarter. Troy led by four, 37-33.

The game became a see-saw affair in the final period as Emilio "Vino" Platts, Boyd and Johnson combined to keep Kingston in the game. But, the bottom fell out on the Maroons in the fourth quarter.

Boyd played his finest game in a Kingston uniform as he hit on four field goals and eight foul shots for 16 points. Johnson, hitting the boards on both ends was the Maroons' leading scorer with 17.

Venson managed but four field goal attempts, but hit 10 on the charity stripe. He ended with 18 points, tied for high-scoring honors with team-mate Carty. Carty hit on seven attempts from the floor and four from the foul line.

Kingston's JV's also blew an early lead to lose, 45-44. Ron Burris was high man for the Junior Maroons with 17 points. The JV's are now 9-3 on the season.

The Maroons have a chance to improve on their 2-3 DUSO mark when they host the Red Raiders of Port Jervis Friday night. If Kingston can knock off Port Jervis and Middletown next Friday, they have a good chance for a second-place finish in the league. First place was conceded to Newburgh before the season was even underway.

Graebner Annex's Buffalo T & S Invite

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) —

Clark Graebner won his fourth straight Buffalo Tennis and Squash Club Invitational Indoor Tennis Tournament Sunday, downing Bob Lutz 6-4, 3-6, 9-7.

Graebner and Gene Scott joined to defeat Bob McKinley and Dick Stockton 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.

Graebner eliminated Bob Carmichael in the semi-finals 7-9, 6-0, 6-3, while Lutz defeated Scott 6-2, 6-3.

Coach Mike Perry didn't say it, but he might have thought it. But a check with the Dutchess publicity department Friday elicited the information that "Mr. Evans is on scouting trip." Just chalk it up as the year of the crucible.

combined with Venson and Carty to force the many Maroon errors. Apply more pressure than the visitors could handle in the third quarter. Troy led by four, 37-33.

The game became a see-saw affair in the final period as Emilio "Vino" Platts, Boyd and Johnson combined to keep Kingston in the game. But, the bottom fell out on the Maroons in the fourth quarter.

Boyd played his finest game in a Kingston uniform as he hit on four field goals and eight foul shots for 16 points. Johnson, hitting the boards on both ends was the Maroons' leading scorer with 17.

Venson managed but four field goal attempts, but hit 10 on the charity stripe. He ended with 18 points, tied for high-scoring honors with team-mate Carty. Carty hit on seven attempts from the floor and four from the foul line.

Kingston's JV's also blew an early lead to lose, 45-44. Ron Burris was high man for the Junior Maroons with 17 points. The JV's are now 9-3 on the season.

The Maroons have a chance to improve on their 2-3 DUSO mark when they host the Red Raiders of Port Jervis Friday night. If Kingston can knock off Port Jervis and Middletown next Friday, they have a good chance for a second-place finish in the league. First place was conceded to Newburgh before the season was even underway.

Survival Instinct Big Boon to Bulls

By United Press International

Give the Chicago Bulls credit for that survival instinct.

Inhabitants of the nearby stockyards had a better chance of getting through the day than the Bulls Sunday after Chicago dropped a 142-137 decision to

Atlanta in the opener of a National Basketball Association "doubleheader."

The western Division leading Hawks started the day by winning a protest game carried over from the last second of a

Bruins Give Own Verdict

By United Press International

The Boston Bruins aren't waiting for the law to determine any punishment due Wayne Maki for his wild stick-swinging duel with Ted Green during an exhibition game in Ottawa last Sept. 21, when Green, a Bruin defenseman, suffered a skull fracture that required two operations and sidelined him for the season.

Although an Ottawa court is scheduled to hear the case next week to determine if any civil action should be taken against either combatant, the Boston players issued their own verdict Sunday night during a 7-1 conquest of the Blues.

Despite the impressive victory, the Bruins were unable to gain any ground on the Montreal Canadiens, with whom they are tied for second in the East Division of the National Hockey League, or the first-place New York Rangers. New York routed the Los Angeles Kings, 5-1, to remain two points up on Boston and Montreal, which edged the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2.

In other games, the Pittsburgh Penguins beat the Minnesota North Stars, 6-3, and the Philadelphia Flyers turned back the Detroit Red Wings, 5-3.

Don Marcotte, who has been with Boston for only 12 games, had a three-goal "hat trick" against the Blues.

In addition, John McKenzie had two goals and Phil Esposito and Dallas Smith picked up one each for Boston.

Daytona Track Gave Cale the Answer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "When you are flat on your back from a bad spill, you wonder if your attitude toward racing will change. Daytona is a good place to find out."

Cale Yarborough was speaking. He had just posted a record 194.015 miles per hour over the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway Sunday to claim the pole position for the Feb. 2 Daytona 500, richest of all stock car racing events.

Laver Takes The $10Gs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—How long can Rod Laver keep playing the best tennis in the world?

"You'll have to ask my legs," said the soft-spoken Australian after winning the $60,000 International Tennis Players Association tournament at the Spectrum Sunday.

Laver experienced a minimum of trouble in disposing of fellow Australian Tony Roche in Straight sets, 6-3, 7-6, 6-2. He earned the $10,000 first prize as he sailed through Roche for the second straight year in the final here. Roche, the No. 2 ranking player, collected $4,200 for second.

New York attained some measure of revenge for a disputed loss at Los Angeles Jan. 28, where the referee took 20 minutes after the game ended to allow the winning goal for the Kings. Donnie Marshall, Bill Fairbairn, Jim Neilson, Dave Balon and Rod Seiling scored for the Rangers, who ran their winning streak to four games.

Bobby Rousseau's second goal of the night, a 60-foot drive with eight minutes remaining, gave the Canadiens their fourth triumph in six games with Chicago. Chico Maki and Eric Nesterenko scored for the Hawks, who had their five-game unbeaten string ended.

Bob Woytowich drew four assists for Pittsburgh, which now has won six and tied two of its last 10 games in a drive for its first ever playoff berth. The Penguins, third in the West, scored twice in each period against Minnesota.

Jean Guy Gendron scored two goals as Philadelphia won for the first time in its history in Detroit. Gordie Howe collected the 750th goal of his career for the Wings.

Nov. 6 contest by outscoring the Bulls, 18-13, in overtime.

Chicago, however, was not demoralized by the defeat and came right back to beat Atlanta, 117-107, to retain fourth place in the West by five percentage points over San Francisco. Bob Love led the attack with 34 points and Clem Haskins tallied 31 for the Bulls. Joe Caldwell had an Atlanta high of 24 points.

Lou Hudson's nine points in overtime enabled the Hawks to win the protest game, but the second game setback cut Atlanta's lead over second place Los Angeles to 1-2 games.

The Lakers beat San Diego, 125-113; Baltimore stopped Milwaukee, 120-106; Boston ripped Cincinnati, 130-117, and Seattle surprised Philadelphia 118-117.

Rick Roberson, injured Wilt Chamberlain's replacement at center, scored a career high 26 points as Los Angeles won its 11th straight home game against San Diego in three years. Jerry West netted 34 points and Elgin Baylor tallied 31 against the last place Rockets. Elvin Hayes, the NBA's defending scoring champion was held to 15 points by the Laker defense.

Baltimore allowed Lew Alcindor 36 points, but got comparable mileage out of Wes Unseld's 18 points in the first half to stop Milwaukee. The Bullets built a 49-33 lead at halftime and couldn't be caught. Earl Monroe led Baltimore with 23 points.

Boston offset Tom Van Arsdale's 38-point performance to rout Cincinnati. Rookie Jo Jo White's 26 points and veteran John Havlicek's 24 paced the Celtics, who now are only five games back of the all-important fourth division playoff berth in the East.

Fourth place Philadelphia dropped its sixth straight game to Seattle. Bob Boozer led the Sonics' first half attack when he hit seven of eight field goal tries and Bob Rule picked up the slack with a game-high 23 points. Billy Cunningham scored 22 for the 76ers.

Dear Abby

...To 'Perfect' Wife

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I notice that you did not comment on that letter from "YOUNG at 37." You were smart.

She seemed so pleased with herself because she did all her own housework, cooking, laundry, raised four children and even laid tile and painted her house. I wonder when she found time to write that letter?

She bragged that after 20 years of marriage, she still weighed the same — 102 pounds — and she stood 4 feet 11 inches. Then she had the gall to suggest that other women could be "slim" too — if they would get off their fat fannies.

Well, I have news for her. She is from 12 to 17 pounds OVERWEIGHT for her height. Maybe she should get a good look at herself in the rear view mirror.

Me? I am her age, also stand 4 feet 11 inches, and I weigh 85 pounds.

No Gwendolyn, cough medicine doesn't do a thing for horse chestnuts.

An old-timer is a fellow who recalls emptying the drip-pan under the icebox three times a day during the summer.

Considering some of the thick-headed attitudes encountered by educators these days, perhaps we should refer to temples of learning as the "halls of ivory."

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

BLOSSOM TIME: (Q.) I am 13. I am no longer a "dog" or a prude. I have been asked roller-skating and to the movies. Several boys have crushes on me. The one who sits beside me in history class likes to rub my leg and put his hand on my knee. In class there is no danger from this, but I discourage it at dances and parties.

I have really come out of my shell since last year. I enjoy life. I have a real "I don't care" attitude toward everything I don't want to do. Because of this my grades have gone down and my parents are cutting me up. Can you tell me how to pull them up without turning into a drudge again? I'm afraid if I give in to the disciplined life I'll lose all I've gained.—Popular and Enjoying It in New York State.

(A.) You are growing up! But 13 (or any age, for that matter) is too young to abandon all the solid things in life, including studies. It's too young, too, for that extracurricular classwork.

You are afraid of discipline. The people who have the most fun are disciplined people. You have to be disciplined to get the most out of life. You have to do some kind of work and do it well. You can have fun, too. But all fun is no fun. Work well done makes real fun possible. Think about this.

ASCOTS: (Q.) Are short silk ascots for boys in? I want to wear one with bell bottoms and a body shirt.—Fashion Conscious in Pottstown, Pa.

(A.) Ascots are in now, and have been for a long time. They are classics, and you can wear them with confidence with your casual clothes.

HEAVY AND HAPPY IN CAMDEN, N.J.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "YOUNG at 37": My mother, age 64, is 4 feet 11 inches and she weighs 170 pounds. She does all her own work, picks apples with the experts, goes hunting with dad, helps haul wood, and she can food enough in summer to see her own family and plenty of neighbors thru the winter. When sitting on her "fat fanny," she makes quilts and layettes for The Salvation Army. I believe "Young at 37" would have a hard time keeping up with my mother.

When I get home I must take care of my home and meals and laundry because at 2:30 p.m. I am on my way back to school to take the children home.

I also sew, garden and even repair my upholstered furniture when necessary. I am president of the PTA for the second consecutive year. I also teach the primary class in my church school and take an active part in church activities.

Yes, you guessed it. My fanny is fat, but I don't get to sit on it much.

MILDRED LOCKHART, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

DEAR ABBY: How come with all her talent, "YOUNG at 37" didn't enter the MRS. AMERICA contest?

I have been married for 28 years and have been on the heavy side all my life, and it is not from sitting on my fat fanny either. I have always done all my own cooking and baking, housework and floor scrubbing. I shampoo my rugs regularly, too. I just finished painting the interior of my house and put in carpet tiles in all the bedrooms and baths. I also made draperies for the house and slip covers for all the furniture, plus I have arthritis in my neck and spine.

When my husband comes home, he gets a hot full-course dinner with no waiting. I also have two friends who have no time to listen, and share, and to help others. That's what it's all about. Abby. Sign me... SERENE IN THE SOUTHWEST

DEAR ABBY: I just had my 21st birthday and I have two children ages 4 and 3. I've been married 5½ years. I would like for "YOUNG at 37" to know that I started out at 102 pounds just like she did, but now I weigh 150, and it's not because I sat around on my fat fanny. I worked every bit as hard as she did, and maybe harder, but let's not go into that. At 19 my hair started graying and at 20 I had developed a nice size ulcer from worrying about cobwebs I couldn't reach.

OLD AND VERY TIRED AT 21 IN ODESSA, TEX.

For a personal reply enclosed stamped, addressed envelope. Have a lovely wedding. Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

(Hear Dear Abby Mon. thru Sat. at 9:10 a.m. WKNY-1490.)

Horoscope

By SYDNEY OMARR

It's In The Stars

("The wise man controls his destiny... astrology points the way.")

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1970

ARIES (March 21-April 19): There is danger in excess speed. You tend to be headstrong, impatient. On positive side, definite progress occurs. Seek balance. Be original without being radical—then you win.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You will not be successful in participating in clandestine activities. What you do should be open, aboveboard. Attend to details in methodical manner. There is really nothing to fear.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Friends are aggressive. Refuse to be bullied. Stand tall; stick to principles. Make necessary change. Your own ability to analyze is superior today to that of associates.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Your self-esteem rises. Others sense this and you gain confidence of superiors. Take initiative. Career potential is accelerated. You go places and accomplish things.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Good lunar aspect today coincides with success through correspondence, writing, advertising. Get point of view across to many persons. Be vital, alert and confident. Study CANCER message.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Interest in what might be hidden is activated. You are capable of making discoveries of value. Involves money, estates, taxes, expenditures. Get facts, figures in focus.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Partnership may be under pressure. Co-operative efforts get off the ground. Theory is replaced by direct action. There could be disagreement. Key is to see project as a whole.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You get results today. Where past efforts may have gone by wayside, today you inspire cooperation. This is followed by success. Spirited neighbor is talking to hear himself talk.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Sudden actions highlight day. You act to great extent on intuition. This may be good.

Many changes occur. Planning today could be a handicap.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Plenty of activity today around home base. There is element of confusion. You could be involved in dispute about how—and for how much—to dispose of property, valuables.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You may want to lash out at those closest to you. Practice restraint. You will be grateful. Ideas come in flurries. Be selective. Choose the best—for your own good.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Be careful or you could lose something of value while in transit. Check directions, instructions. Many have a tendency to give incorrect time today. Realize this and take proper precautions.

IF TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are independent in thought, action, with many original ideas. During upcoming year you can put much together and a spell success for your efforts.

CLEANUP OPERATIONS — Military police stand guard during cleanup operations at the National Press Center, in Saigon, Sunday, after terrorists set off plastic bomb, setting fire to second floor of the building. No injuries were reported and the explosion came about two hours after daily military briefing of Saigon's press corps. (UPI RADIO-

SAIGON (UPI) — Military spokesmen said 102 Communist soldiers died in weekend fighting in Vietnam, 14 of them in a skirmish along the Cambodian border in the final hours of the Viet Cong's four-day Tet truce.

The Communist standdown ended at 7 a.m. today (6 p.m. EST Sunday). U. S. officials said the Tet period was one of the quietest since the American military buildup began in 1965. The Allies observed a one day cease-fire. American B-52 bombers pounded Communist positions within 29 miles of Saigon Sunday, the closest bombing raids to the capital in six weeks. Spokesmen said the planes unloaded 180 tons of bombs.

In Saigon, authorities continued their investigation into Sunday night's terrorist bombing of the South Vietnamese National Press Center in the downtown section. The blast in the unoccupied two-story building destroyed the second floor offices and touched off a brief fire. No injuries were reported. The guerrillas' truce for Tet ended as elements of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division's 1st Brigade fought a 10-hour battle with a Communist force of an unknown size late Sunday 11 miles from the Cambodian border, and 72 miles northwest of Saigon.

When the guerrillas finally withdrew, they left 14 dead on the battlefield. The U. S. Command said there were no American casualties.

Another clash Sunday nine miles from the Cambodian border wounded 10 members of the 1st Air Cavalry Division. Allies killed 32 North Vietnamese soldiers in the area Saturday while other Sunday fighting cost another 56 Communist troops dead. Allied

Military spokesmen said the losses were placed at 13 killed and 19 wounded.

Military sources said the prisoner taken in fighting along the border Sunday told interrogators that Communist units were moving from Cambodian bases into South Vietnam in an attempt to launch attacks against installations around My Tho, 34 miles southwest of Saigon.

The delta city is the headquarters of the South Vietnamese 7th Infantry Division, largest Allied unit in the upper portion of the delta ricebowl.

Laird on Vietnam: Top-to-Bottom Look

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon dispatched Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird to Vietnam today for a top-to-bottom look at how well the South Vietnamese are taking over the war — and how fast the United States can continue to pull out.

Nixon, who met with Laird at the White House Sunday, said he wanted the secretary "to follow up and go thoroughly into the areas of (Vietnamization) — even more thoroughly than he had done before." Laird and Gen. Earl G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, planned to leave on the 10-day trip at 8 a.m. EST. The President declined to offer a personal evaluation of how the Vietnamization effort was going, except to say it "is making progress." A new assessment of the war, however, was released today on Capitol Hill by a House armed services subcommittee which visited Vietnam last month.

The report said the pacification program "is going in the right direction and that it has made some significant progress down a long and difficult road." But it warned that a "serious threat remains" from the Communists "and there undoubtedly will be new attacks and setbacks and losses and some failures of leadership."

The subcommittee, which included Reps. James A. Byrne, D-Pa., William G. Bray, R-Ind. and Charles H. Wilson, D-Calif., said there was steady progress in bringing the South Vietnam population into areas free of Viet Cong control. It said 90 percent of the population was now living in the three categories of hamlets considered most safe from Communist intrusion. "While 1969 progress has been very impressive," the panel said, "the progress has been in relation to past Vietnamese experience. The program has a long, long road to travel."

Would Abolish Regents Exams

NEW YORK (AP) — State Sen. Paul P. E. Bookson, D-Manhattan, said today he will ask the legislature to abolish state regents examinations "because the process is an antiquated approach to education in present-day society."

Bookson said the tests "manage simultaneously to insulate the child from meaningful education and inhibit the teacher's innovative and imaginative efforts."

Bookson said the tests hinder both the disadvantaged student and the advanced student.

"The disadvantaged child often needs the teacher relating to his needs rather than to the confining regents' exam discipline," he said, "and the regents work against the progressive student because the teacher must direct his efforts toward the student vis-a-vis the year-end exams, when more freedom would allow innovative instruction and more rapid development of the student."

Bookson said his proposal would not affect the State Board of Regents itself or teacher standards, or the annual regents competitive scholarship examinations.

Bookson's remarks were prepared for a Manhattan news conference.

Cambodia Captures Five U.S. Sailors

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. Command announced today Cambodia has captured and is holding five American sailors and the gunboat they sailed across the border from Vietnam Thursday night.

The patrol boat crossed by mistake into Cambodia on the Mekong River 165 miles south-west of Saigon, the announcement said.

"The crewmen apparently became disoriented in the dark when returning to their station at the USS Benewah, located 15 miles downstream from the border," the command said.

"The U.S. government is in touch with the Cambodian government in regard to the release of the personnel and the boat."

The crewmen were not identified. This is the second U.S.

military boat captured in Cambodia.

On July 20, 1968, Prince Norodom Sihanouk announced his forces had captured a patrol boat with 11 American GIs and one South Vietnamese crewman aboard.

The United States immediately apologized for that intrusion and asked for the return of the men. Sihanouk demanded 12 tractors as ransom and on Dec. 19, 1968, released the GIs so they would be home in time for Christmas.

The men came out of Cambodia reporting they had been treated well in detention at a Cambodian naval base, where they were well fed and spent what they called a life of leisure playing volleyball and basking in the sun.

On June 11, 1968, Cambodia released two American civilians who had inadvertently sailed into Cambodia on a tugboat with eight Filipinos.

Another Day in Court for Calley's Attorneys

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Attorneys for Lt. William L. Calley Jr. go before a military judge today in another attempt to get charges that he murdered 102 Vietnamese civilians either dismissed or taken before a civilian court.

Calley faces court martial in the alleged killings at My Lai on March 16, 1968.

His chief defense attorney, George Latimer of Salt Lake City, Utah, contends that the Army has no jurisdiction over the Miami, Fla., native because he is being held on active duty past his release date.

Calley was charged the day before his scheduled release Sept. 5.

The hearing today revolves around pretrial defense motions that command influence from President Nixon on down was brought to bear in the decision to try Calley and that Calley cannot get a fair trial because of pretrial news coverage.

The hearing is a continuation of one held Jan. 20 when the prosecution was ordered to be more specific in the charges against Calley. The charges do not identify any of the alleged victims and only a few of the specifications identify the victims by sex or age.

The prosecution has sought further hearings on the wording of the charges, but the request has been denied by Judge Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy.

On Friday, the Army announced it was dropping a charge against Calley that he murdered a Vietnamese male approximately six weeks before the My Lai incident.

The post commander, Maj. Gen. Orwin C. Talbot, made the decision after receiving a recommendation from an investigation officer. The nature of the recommendation was not announced.

Kennedy ruled in January that he would hear testimony concerning command influence from Ft. Benning commanders before he decided in a defense request to call Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor or Army Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

GOP Senators Show Signs of New Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans are showing new signs of unity on such controversial issues as Vietnam and President Nixon's latest Supreme Court nomination.

In contrast to some of the strains of 1969, efforts for better relations by leading GOP moderate senators and the White House appear to be paying off.

An accompanying factor, GOP politicians say, is Nixon's high ratings in popularity polls, especially his handling of Vietnam.

As a result, last week's renewal of public hearings on Vietnam by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee saw such GOP doves as Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky take the lead in rejecting suggestions by Democratic Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota that the administration is planning to maintain 250,000 troops in Vietnam indefinitely.

Case indicated McGovern was politically motivated while Cooper stressed he has received personal assurances from the President that the United States is on its way out of Vietnam.

The committee's senior Republican, George D. Aiken of Vermont, commented early last week there would be a lot of political statements on Vietnam as the election approaches. Then, he proceeded to stay away from the sessions except for a couple of brief appearances.

As for the Democrats, only committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, did much critical questioning, and, by the last day, even Church didn't show up.

The chief critic of the Nixon administration turned out to be Sen. Charles E. Goodell, the New York Republican who is running hard for the seat to which he was appointed in 1968.

Likewise, Goodell is the only GOP senator openly opposed to the G. Harrold Carswell Supreme Court nomination at this stage.

But his Vietnam proposal, removal of financial support for American forces by Dec. 1 in order to force their withdrawal, drew an attack from an unusual source in an act that only served to underscore the new unity of Republicans.

None other than Jacob K. Javits, Goodell's senior colleague, ended a report to the Senate on a recent trip to Vietnam with sharp criticism of Goodell's proposal.

"Such a drastic step as to cut off money for the support of the armed forces unless the President complies with the will of the Congress would deprive the President summarily of his position as foreign policy spokesman and commander in chief," Javits said.

And he added, "this would undermine the President's ability to conduct the foreign policy of the United States throughout the world."

You wouldn't want to lose a voice in Congress, would you?

You can. Easily. If you don't show up in the Census. Because national and state legislatures are based on population.
If you, and enough of your neighbors, feel the Census is a nuisance instead of a necessity, you may not get into the head count. And could end up with one less representative than your area is entitled to.
Other things, too, depend on Census figures, like aid for schools, housing, medical services, recreational facilities, and the stimulation of jobs.
So fill in your Census Form. It's as private as your vote, and just as important.

We can't know where we're going if we don't know where we are.
